C Talk to other students. Ask and answer the questions in Ex 3A. Pay attention to your intonation.

D Work in pairs. What do you have in common with the students you talked to?

READING

4A Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

- Are most people the same? Think of things most people like, dislike or hate. Use the ideas in the box.

activities films food and drink social events transport weather

- What do you like, but most people hate?
- What do you hate, but most people like?

B Read the blog post and find one activity that you do in paragraphs 2–4.

C Read the post again and answer the questions.

- Which two examples are about memory?
- Which three things are about feelings?
- Which five things are about the times we don't do or use something?
- Which question in the post does the writer not answer? What is your answer to that question?

D Work in pairs. How true is the post for you? Give a score from 1–10 and explain why.

Are we really so different?

Do you ever look at people around you and say to yourself, 'Wow, we're all so different!?' Well, recently I had the opposite idea. I think that in many ways we're all the same. We like, feel and do many of the same things.

What kind of things do we all do at home? We all dance in the kitchen to our favourite music and we look in the fridge for no reason. We hide things. For example, we put a key behind a book on a shelf or in a small box next to the computer, so that no one else can find it. Then we forget where it is. We wake up early at weekends when we don't have college or work. We keep clothes that we never wear. We look at our phone in bed, just before we go to sleep. And yes, sometimes we talk to ourselves, or to our pets.

What about outside the home? Well, how do you feel about sitting in your car at a red light? Nobody likes waiting, so it's not surprising that we all hate traffic and queues. In the cinema we all cry at the sad part of the film. We miss our friends when they go away and we want to be with them now. We join gyms and pay a lot of money to be a member, and then we never go. We take a book to a café or the beach and never read it.

Do you look everywhere for your phone and then find it's in your pocket? Do you buy things (usually for exercise or for cooking) and use them only once, and then never again? Do you pack extra clothes in your suitcase when you go on holiday? Do you only wear some of them, but not all of them? Of course you do. We all do. And which day of the week is your favourite? Don't tell me. I know the answer.

Finally, we all have good days and bad days. We want people to like us. And we love being right.

How did you find your career?

AJ ❤️ 12 💬 13 ➦

I followed my nose

I found my career by luck. I wanted to work in the travel industry and I had an interview at the airport near me. I got a job as a sales assistant in one of their shops – a perfume shop – and it was great for me because my sense of smell is ... amazing. I knew all the perfumes by smell in the first week. Customers loved me. One day one of these customers, a coffee buyer, offered me a job in his company. It was my job to choose and buy the best coffee beans. I signed a contract for one year and stayed for five years. The pay was good, but after five years it was time to do something for myself. My sense of smell was the key to my career, and I wanted to develop my own business. So I ...

Words to change your mood

It's always nice to do things for the people you care about. But sometimes a few words can change how other people feel. Use one of these phrases today to put a smile on someone's face!

- 'Nice coat! Is it new?' – People like it when you notice something new.
- 'It'll be OK.' – Sometimes someone feels stressed about something for a good reason. These words can make them feel a little more positive about things.
- 'I know what you mean.' – This means you're really listening to the other person. You're interested in their ideas. But only say this if it's true.
- 'You can do it!' – This helps when people are afraid of trying something new. You can also say, 'You'll be great!'
- 'What do YOU think?' – People are always pleased about it when you think their opinion is important.
- 'That's a really good question!' or 'What a great question!' – These are good things to say to someone who isn't very confident about speaking and you want to help them.
- 'Do you want to have a chat or maybe go out for a coffee?' – This can help people when they are feeling unhappy about something or they are perhaps a little lonely.

D Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

- 1 When was the last time you felt pleased about something you did or made?
- 2 Imagine that your friend says that they're lonely. What do you do?
- 3 How do you help someone who is stressed about their work or studies?
- 4 Are there any animals that you are afraid of?
- 5 Are you confident about speaking in front of a lot of people?
- 6 What things were you most interested in when you were a child?
- 7 Do you generally feel positive about your future?
- 8 Are you happy or unhappy with your phone?

interview people about their likes and dislikes

5A Work with a different partner from Ex 1A. Think of questions to ask each other about these things.

- work or studies
- free time
- housework (e.g. cleaning, cooking)

B Interview your partner. Ask them your questions from Ex 5A. Use the Key phrases to ask follow-up questions.

KEY PHRASES

What do you like/dislike about it?
 Why do you like/dislike it?
 Do you like doing it with someone, or alone?
 Why do you feel that way?
 Why's that?
 Can you give me some examples?

C What things do you and your partner have in common? Tell other students.

It was interesting to speak to Gregor because we have a lot in common. We both enjoy playing video games and we both dislike washing dishes. We don't mind cooking, but we don't like doing it every day.

I really love doing things outdoors – hiking, camping, cycling – but I enjoy a lot of indoor activities, too. For example, I love cooking and watching films. I like being alone sometimes, and when I'm alone I like reading. Books are important to me and I love discussing a good book with other people.

I don't hate anything. (Actually, I hate the word 'hate'.) But there are a few things I dislike doing. I really don't like going to the theatre or to concerts because I don't like places with a lot of people.

A long trip!

When I was younger, in my mid-twenties, I was living in Vienna. I loved travelling and I wanted to go to Cairo to see the Pyramids, so I booked a flight at a travel agent's. The travel agent told me that the plane took off at 10.30 a.m. and arrived at 1.55 a.m. That's a long time to fly from Vienna to Cairo, but I didn't really think about it – the ticket was cheap and I was excited about my trip. There was probably a shorter flight, but I didn't ask – that was the first mistake. I made a reservation for a hotel room in Cairo before I left. Anyway, there was a short delay and we flew out from Vienna at 11.00, and we got in at 14.20, to ... Istanbul, Turkey! I checked the ticket and it said change in Istanbul! It was a ten-hour wait at the airport – a very long ten hours in a very small waiting room. I didn't sleep.

We finally landed in Cairo at 1.55 a.m. and I went to the hotel. They were very surprised to see me. The receptionist said, 'You were due to arrive yesterday. We don't have a room for you.' Of course, I gave the wrong day – the day of the flight – in the reservation. I forgot that the arrival time, 1.55 a.m., was actually the next day. That was a very long trip.

C Look at the words and phrases in bold in the post. Choose the correct words to complete the sentences.

- 1 The plane takes off / flies at 7 p.m. and changes / gets in at 9 p.m.
- 2 The arrival time / flight takes two hours.
- 3 There is a one-hour flight / delay because of bad weather.
- 4 The plane flies out / lands from Edinburgh airport and we change / delay in Berlin.
- 5 We are due to arrive / delaying at Sydney airport at eight o'clock tomorrow morning.
- 6 I'm going to change / make a reservation for a seat.
- 7 They changed the arrival time / delay from 8 a.m. to 8.30, but in the end, we landed / changed before 8.

Sometimes I take the wrong clothes and once I went to the wrong airport!
- B Read the first part of an article about travel mistakes. What is the mistake connected to each 'lesson', do you think?

Travel Mistakes: Lessons I learnt the hard way

We all make mistakes, but when we travel, we probably make more mistakes than usual. I worked as a travel writer for thirty years and I think I made every mistake possible – more than once. I didn't like making the mistakes, but I learnt some good lessons. Here are the most important ones.

- Check the weather before you leave.
- Check your mobile phone package.
- Don't get too comfortable in the train station or in the airport.
- Don't take taxis from airports or train stations.
- Be careful, foreign place names can look very similar.
- Don't put all your important things in one place, for example, in a money belt.
- Be sure your suitcase is your suitcase!
- Read your travel information carefully.

7A Read a report about the survey. Is your answer to the questions the same as most people's?

Difficult situations – a survey

How do we react in different situations? Do we all feel stressed? Do we all do the same things? We asked people in our class some questions, and these are the results.

How do we feel when we forget someone's name at a party? Most of us said that we feel stressed at first. The interesting part is that we do different things in this situation. Two people said they end the conversation. One person mentioned that they go and ask someone else the first person's name, and then go back to that person. None of us said that we simply tell the person that we forgot their name.

And how do we feel when our computer crashes and we lose all of our work? All of us said that we get really stressed. Most people thought that it's possible to find the lost work, but none of us knew how to do this. Maybe we all need to learn more about computers!

READING

1 A Work in pairs and discuss. When you were a child, what were your favourite books?

B Read the article. Work in pairs. Match the sections (1–3) with three of the ideas (a–d).

- a a library in every town
- b a plan is important
- c together we are stronger
- d books for every child

C Read the article again. Are the statements True (T) or False (F)?

- 1 Dolly Parton has twelve brothers and sisters.
- 2 Her father didn't learn to read.
- 3 Every child in the programme gets one free book every year.
- 4 The Imagination Library gave away 150 million books in 2020.
- 5 More than half of the students in Parton's home county didn't finish high school.
- 6 In the 'Buddy Program', if one buddy didn't finish high school, both buddies lost their money.
- 7 The 'Buddy Program' changed things a lot.
- 8 Winners of the Dolly Parton Scholarship get $3,000.

D Work with other students and discuss. Which of the three ideas in the article do you like the best? Why?

Dolly Parton, 'The Book Lady'

Dolly Parton is a world-famous country singer and performer, but she also does a lot to help students get a better education.

1 The Imagination Library Parton was born in Sevier County, Tennessee, in the USA, the fourth of twelve children. Her father never learnt to read or write and many children in the county didn't do well at school. Children everywhere have to learn to read before they can learn to study, but in Sevier County there was a problem. Many children didn't learn to read well because they didn't have any books.

Parton saw the problem and decided to help. In 1995 she started the Imagination Library. The library gives one book every month to every child in the programme, from birth to the age of five. Families don't have to pay for the books. They're free. Parents say their children love it when a book arrives each month. The Imagination Library programme started in Parton's home county and is now in five different countries – the USA, Canada, the UK, Ireland and Australia. Between 1995 and 2020, the library gave 150 million books to children.

2 The 'Buddy Program' Parton discovered that over thirty percent of students in Sevier County didn't finish high school. She wanted to do something about this problem and searched for an answer. In the end she developed her 'Buddy Program'. In 1991, Parton spoke to all the 13- to 14-year-old students in the county and told them about her programme. First, each student needed to choose a partner, or 'buddy'. Then Parton promised to give each student $500 when they finished high school at the age of eighteen. And then Parton explained one important rule – the Buddy needed to finish high school, too. Parton expected a change, but nothing so amazing. The thirty percent went down to six percent – about ninety-four percent of students finished high school.

3 The Dolly Parton Scholarship* Every year Parton's foundation, the Dollywood Foundation, gives five students $15,000 each. The five are students who finish high school in Sevier County. The rules say that students who don't finish high school can't win the money. To win the money, the Foundation tells students that they have to have a dream, and they have to plan the steps to make that dream come true. Finally, they have to describe their plan to the Foundation in a clear way. Thanks to the scholarship, many students can take a big first step towards living their dream.

scholarship*: money that an organisation gives to someone to help pay for their education

VOCABULARY

- 1 A Work in pairs and look at the pictures (A–G). What problem does each one show?
- B Read the introduction to the article on Everyday hacks. Then work in pairs and answer the questions.
- Which four problems in Ex 1A does it mention?
 - How can you solve these problems?
- C Read the complete article. Which problem in Ex 1B does each life hack solve? Which hack do you think would be the most and the least successful?

Everyday hacks

Life is full of problems – big ones, small ones. You buy shoes and they're too small. Your bright red jumper comes out pink after washing it. Your pen leaves a big black spot on your T-shirt. You lose a small piece of jewellery, like an earring, in your apartment. That's where 'life hacks' – little tricks to solve everyday problems – save the day. They're usually very simple and cost nothing. Here are our life hacks for some common problems ...

- Fill a plastic bag with water and put it inside your shoe. Put the shoe in the freezer overnight. The next day, your shoe will be bigger.
- Use your vacuum cleaner, but put a sock over the end of the tube. Then vacuum all the hidden places (between the cushions on the sofa, etc.).
- Put toothpaste onto the spot. After it's dry, wash the T-shirt. No more ink spot!
- Turn the jumper inside out when you put it into the washing machine.

D Work in pairs. Which life hack do you like best? Why?

What are your best and worst memories from your school days?

Posted 14:26 | 3 days ago

My best memories come from secondary school. It was a small school. There were only 350 students in the whole school, but I remember I felt scared on the first day. At lunchtime, I was sitting alone and three students came over to my table and sat with me. They were really friendly and I can remember that moment clearly. I felt so happy.

Another great memory comes from my second year. There was a big maths competition. I was good at maths, but there were two other students who were much better (they were geniuses!). But in the end, and I don't know how, I won first place! That was a great feeling (but I felt bad for the geniuses).

My worst memory was earlier, in primary school. There were a lot of rules. We couldn't talk during lunch, we couldn't run in the halls, we couldn't throw things in the classroom. Some of these were good rules, but for a child, it can be difficult to follow them. I remember the first time I broke a rule. I threw a pencil to my classmate and the teacher saw it. She said my name in an angry voice and I had to stay after school for one hour and clean the desks.

Around the world on a motorbike ... at twenty-two

On 11 July 2019, twenty-two-year-old Jack Groves rode his motorbike from his home near London in the direction of Europe. Then, 693 days later, he arrived back home again. He was the youngest person to go around the world on a motorbike. We spoke to Jack about his experience.

Why did you do it?

After university, I wasn't ready for a nine-to-five job. I read about a guy who, at twenty-four, was the youngest to ride a motorcycle around the world. I did the maths and thought, 'Wait, I can beat that.'

What were some of the best moments?

I was riding in Central Asia along the Pamir Highway, on the way to Kyrgyzstan and then China, over some of the highest mountains in the world. One night I slept at the Everest base camp under the stars and the brightest moon I've ever seen. Then later, the most exciting moment in the whole trip was in November. I was at Machu Picchu in Peru and for the first half hour, I was the only tourist there. It was a once-in-a-lifetime moment.

And the worst?

That was right at the beginning of the trip, a short distance from the start, maybe 100 kilometres. I crashed the bike badly. I was OK, but the bike needed repairing. I started the journey again soon after.

What was the coldest place you went to?

That was on the border between Kyrgyzstan and Tajikistan, the second-highest international border in the world. There was a small building there with three border guards. One of them invited me in, gave me a cup of tea and a seat by the fire. So, that was the coldest place, and it was also one of the kindest moments.

And the hottest?

The hottest place was definitely Australia when I was riding along the Eyre Highway, the longest straight road in Australia. It goes along the south coast. It was boring and amazing at the same time. Anyway, they had the three hottest days on record. One day it was forty-five degrees Celsius. When I stopped at a petrol station, I bought two litres of cold water – one to drink and the other to pour on my head.

Did you have any other problems with the weather?

Yes, one problem on a motorbike is the wind. Patagonia was windier than I expected. The wind comes off the ocean with amazing power. It's really difficult and dangerous to ride there.

I'm sure you met a lot of people. How did people react to you?

People on my route were friendly everywhere, but as I went east, I felt that the people became friendlier. In Central Asia they were so friendly and invited me into their homes, let me sleep there. They work very hard, but they have more time for other things.

Finally, how has the experience changed you?

Travel is the best way to learn about yourself. Before the trip I was very sure about everything. Now I know that I don't know everything! But I do feel better about talking to people who are older and more experienced than me. I also know that the most important things in life are people, and of course, saying yes to new things.

1 A Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

- 1 When you travel, do you like trying new food?
- 2 Which country's food do you like the best?
- 3 Can you cook? What do you like cooking?

B Read the BBC programme information and answer the questions.

- 1 Look at the photo below. What is each person's name?
- 2 Where did Nadiya get the main ingredient for the dish?

Nadiya's American Adventure

Nadiya Hussain, the British TV chef and presenter, travels to the USA to discover the cooking in different parts of the country. She meets local people and finds out where they get their ingredients and uses those ingredients to cook dishes in her own style. In this episode, she travels to the state of Louisiana and meets Stafford, his wife Belinda and their granddaughter Lola. They take Nadiya down the Mississippi River to a bayou and catch fish. What will Nadiya cook from the fish?

7A Read the email. Would you like to cook this dish?

Hi Kayla,

I'm glad you liked my 'cornflakes chicken' and that you want to make it yourself. Children like it, so it's perfect for your son's birthday party. It's not difficult to make.

You need some chicken breasts with no skin and four bowls. One bowl has flour in it, one has a raw egg, one has crushed cornflakes, and one is empty. Cover each piece of chicken in flour, then in egg, then roll it in the cornflakes so it's completely covered, and put it in the last bowl. Then heat up a lot of oil in a deep frying pan. The oil needs to be very hot. Put a few pieces of the chicken in the oil and let them cook on one side, then turn them over and cook them on the other side. They should look golden brown. I think it takes about five minutes for each side. When they're finished, put them on a plate, maybe with paper towels on it to take away the extra oil. They taste amazing!

That's it! Let me know how it goes!

READING

1 A Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

- Imagine you find a large amount of money in the street. Do you keep it or do you try to find the owner? Why?
- Now imagine you find a gold watch in the street. What do you do?

B Read the article. Why was the writer lucky? Find at least two reasons.

C Read the statements (1–6). Find a phrase or sentence in the article that shows why each statement is false.

- The writer went to the shop only because he liked buying things there.
- This was the first time he read The Hobbit.
- His first conversation with the expert was face-to-face.
- The expert offered £7,000 for the book.
- On the day of the auction the writer felt relaxed.
- He stopped going to the shop where he bought the book.

D Work in pairs and discuss. Have you ever found anything interesting? What did you do with it?

I found a fortune in a charity shop

Andy Hewson

I work in London and until recently there was a shop near me that sold used things – used clothes, books, etc. I liked chatting to the woman who worked ¹there, so I often went there in my lunch break.

One day about ten years ago I was looking at some old books and I noticed a copy of The Hobbit. I was happy to find ²it because I wanted to read it again and I bought it for 50p. I thought that was a fair price for an old book.

It was a nice book. The cover had a picture of trees and mountains in blue, green and black. I started reading it on the train to and from work. One day a woman at work saw the book on my desk and asked, 'Whose is this book? Is it ³yours?' I said yes and asked why. She said that it looked very old, and that maybe it was valuable.

I looked on the internet to find out more. I discovered that there were only 1,500 first edition copies, from 1937, and that ⁴mine was one of ⁵those. My girlfriend helped me make contact with an expert on old books. I called ⁶him and told him about the book, and he asked me to show it to him.

I went to see him and I told him that I thought maybe I could sell it for about £7,000 and he said that was probably true. I then waited about four months for an auction house to sell it. At that time there was a new film of The Hobbit and so people were interested in the story. The auction* started at 2.30 p.m. and there were about forty people there. I was thinking, 'It only cost me 50p, but I'd like to get a minimum of £500.'

The auction price started at £3,000. ⁷That was exciting. Then the offers started going up: they increased from £3,500 to £4,000 to £5,000 ... My heart was racing and I felt a little sick. In the end they sold the book for £16,000. I couldn't believe it. I never expected that much. I was twenty-eight years old and I didn't have a lot of savings ⁸then. I spent the money on two important things: I used the money to rent a place for an exhibition of my photographs. It also helped me to buy a flat.

Andy Hewson continued to visit the shop where he bought the book, but he never told the people in the shop about the auction because he didn't want his relationship with ⁹them to change.

SPEAKING

8A Work in pairs. What do you think 'slow' means when it's connected to food and to travel?

B Work in pairs. Student A: Go to page 142. Student B: Read about the 'Slow Food' movement and make notes on these questions.

- 1 Why did it start?
- 2 What's important in Slow Food?

Slow Food

'Slow Food' started in Italy in the 1980s. A fast-food restaurant was opening in Rome, next to the historic Spanish steps. A lot of people were unhappy. They felt that fast food was dangerous for the traditional Italian lifestyle. In Italy, good food (cooked slowly), long meals with the family eating together and a slow daily life are all important. They started the Slow Food movement.

With Slow Food, it's important to:

- learn about traditional food.
- buy local food products, not food that comes from far away.
- think about what you eat and where it comes from.
- learn how to grow vegetables and fruit in your own garden.
- take enough time – go slow! – when you do anything connected to food.

9A Tell your partner about Slow Food. Say why it started and what's important about it. Use your notes from Ex 8B.

B Listen to Student A talk about 'Slow Travel'. Make sure you understand why the movement started and what's important about it.

C Discuss in pairs. Which movement is more interesting for you? Why?

A few years ago, I was a big name on social media with almost one million followers. I had this idea of selling something. People often told me that they liked my hoodies. So I designed a new hoodie. It was bright purple with a design on the back. I started with 200 of them. I thought, 'They're easy to sell. I can just make a few videos.'

In the first video, I wore the hoodie and I talked about how great it was. You know, 'It's good, strong material. It's perfect for cold or wet weather. It's very thick and it's really warm, but it's also very light – only 600 grams. It feels soft and it's nice to touch and to wear.' I talked about the problems with other hoodies – that some of them are too heavy and some are too thin and not very comfortable. I thought, 'I'm going to sell 200 in a week. It's easy!'

Well, I sold seven hoodies in the first two months and none after that. The price was quite low, so maybe the hoodie wasn't special enough, I don't know. Now what do I do with 193 hoodies?

6 A Choose the correct option (A–C) to complete the text.

How can money buy happiness?

We all know there are ¹..... things you have to pay for, like food, clothes and your accommodation (if you ²..... a flat). Maybe you have a ³..... and you can't go to ⁴..... on foot, so you have to go ⁵..... by train. How about the extras, the things you don't really need, but just want? These are often eating out, electronics and ⁶..... – things social media tells us we need. Does ⁷..... sound like you? Well, if it does, take a piece of ⁸..... from a study of happy people. Happy people often 'buy' time (for example by ordering takeaway instead of cooking) and they use that time to be with people and do things that they enjoy. So, you just need ⁹..... money and some good friends. ¹⁰..... sounds easy, but it's not so simple.

READING

2 A Read the quiz and answer questions 1–5 for you.

B Work in pairs and compare your answers. In what ways are you similar or different?

C Go to page 149. Check the key and read the suggestions.

D Work in pairs and answer the questions about the quiz.

- 1 Do you like the suggestions? Which sport would you like to do?
- 2 Look at the sports in the other two groups. Are there any sports you like? Which ones?

The right sport for you!

Maybe you're the kind of person who does sport every day, or maybe you like watching sport more than doing it. Or perhaps you think that sport isn't for you. Well, sport isn't just about winning and losing or getting hot and tired. It's also about being with people and feeling good about yourself. We think there's a sport for everyone, and we're going to help you find out what YOUR sport is.

Read the questions and give your answer quickly. Don't think about it too much. Then check the key and find the sport for YOU!

1 How fit are you? Can you run 400 metres without stopping?

- a Yes, easily. That isn't very far for me.
- b Yes, but only slowly. I'm not much of a runner.
- c No chance! I've never wanted to go running.

2 Which of these describes you the best?

- a I'm happy to work hard to learn a new sport.
- b I'd like to learn a new sport if I can learn it easily.
- c I don't want to spend a lot of energy learning a new sport.

3 When I'm going for a walk, I like walking

- a quickly so I can go a long distance.
- b slowly and looking at everything around me carefully.
- c at a normal speed.

4 Which of these describes you the best?

- a I hate doing sport alone.
- b I do a sport better when I do it with other people.
- c I like doing most things on my own, including sport.

5 How much money are you happy to spend doing a sport?

- a I'm OK with spending a lot. My fitness is important to me.
- b I normally spend some money on fitness and sport, but not much.
- c I have trainers, but I don't like spending any money on other equipment.

health and illness

1 A Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

- 1 What are your tips for staying fit and healthy?
- 2 When you feel unwell, what do you usually do?

B Read the article. Do you do any of the things that the writer does?

Health problem?

I think I'm a healthy person, but I don't think that doctors like me, for good reasons. When I feel unwell, I always go online to search for my symptoms and find something terrible ... an illness with a scary name. Then I ring the doctor's and say, 'It's an emergency!' Of course it never is.

I go to the doctor every time I have a virus, for example when I have a cold. I always expect to leave the surgery with a prescription for some medicine, some pills to help me feel better, or, at least, some painkillers to help if I have a headache or a sore throat. When I get a blood test or some other test, I can't sleep until I get the results.

We live in a small town, and everyone knows everyone else. The doctor is a friend of ours and I don't think it's a problem to ask her for medical advice. Last time I saw her (in the park), I asked about treatment for a painful elbow. She told me to make an appointment to see her in her surgery.

5A Think of a time when you had to do something very difficult. Tell your partner about it. Choose from these topics or your own ideas.

- doing something in front of a lot of people (e.g. making a speech, playing a solo)
- taking part in a competition (e.g. a sports competition, a maths competition)
- doing a difficult physical activity (e.g. climbing a mountain)
- taking an exam
- doing an important interview
- travelling alone in a foreign country

B 6.07 | Listen to someone talk about a time they did something difficult. What happened? Was the result good?

C 6.07 | Listen again and tick the phrases you hear.

KEY PHRASES

This happened when I was (in my early twenties).
 The problem was that (I wasn't very confident).
 It was hard for me to (speak in front of a lot of people).
 I was afraid of (making a mistake).
 Then I found I had a problem.
 I was shaking/really nervous.
 At that moment, I (relaxed).
 It's one of the most difficult things I've ever done.

6 Work with a different partner to Ex 5A. Tell your story again and use the Key phrases to help. When your partner tells their story, ask them two or three questions.

WRITING

write about a challenge

7A Read the story about a challenge. What helped the person do well?

This happened when I was at university. I was a singer in a band and I also played the guitar. The singing was fine, but I wasn't confident about my guitar playing, so I never played a solo.

At the end of term there was a party and we were the band playing. The problem was that our first song had a big guitar solo in it. My friends told me to relax, but the solo was really difficult to play. Of course, I practised it alone, a hundred times. I always made a mistake in the same place. It was difficult for me NOT to make the mistake.

The evening came. We came on stage and it was our first song. I was really nervous, but I sang the opening verse without any problems. Then the second verse. My guitar solo was next. Just before my solo, I noticed something – I was amazed to see that the audience were really enjoying the show. They were smiling and dancing.

At that moment, I relaxed and my solo started. I felt like the solo was playing itself and I was watching. I finished it and started singing the third verse and I almost wanted to cry with happiness.

B Read the story again. Find three examples of adjectives + to infinitive and four of the Key phrases.

C Write the story you told in Ex 6. Include at least four Key phrases.

D Read other students' stories and follow the instructions.

5 A Choose the correct option (A–C) to complete the text.

Good for my health?

A few months ago, I decided to try a new sport because I wanted to be fitter and more active. The problem is that I'm really afraid of getting hurt. I don't play football for this reason. Football players often get ¹ knees and other injuries. It's not surprising, since sometimes they ² each other's ankles, not the ball. I like winter sports, but when you're skiing, you can ³ into a tree and ⁴ break a leg. What about ice-skating? Well, don't they get ⁵ , going around in circles like that? If you go horse-riding, you can fall ⁶ your horse and hurt yourself badly. ⁷ seemed like a good idea, but then I read that the ball can travel at a speed of over 100 kilometres an hour. That's dangerous! And how about cycling? I watched a race on TV and one racer ⁸ another one. The guy fell off his bike and broke his leg. Ouch!

VOCABULARY

going out and staying in

1 A Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

- What sort of things do you usually do at the weekend?
- What special things can you do in your neighbourhood at the weekend?

B Look at the word webs. One phrase in each web is in the wrong group. Put it into the correct group or groups.

C Work in pairs and find three activities that you have both done recently.

- A: Have you been shopping recently?
 B: Yes, I have. I went to the supermarket yesterday evening.
 A: Me too. That's one thing.

PRONUNCIATION

2A | linking /j/, /w/ and /r/ | Work in pairs. How do we link the pairs of words in bold?

- Would you like to go to a market?
- Let's see a film.
- Why don't we go for a coffee?
- Do you want to see a band?
- I'd like to go on a walking tour.

B 7.01 | Listen and check. Which pairs of words in Ex 2A do we link with /j/ (you), /w/ (we) or /r/ (red)?

C 7.01 | Listen again and repeat.

D Work in pairs. Follow the steps below. Then swap roles.

Student A: Invite Student B using a phrase from Ex 2A and an activity from Ex 1B.

Student B: Say no, and suggest another activity with the same verb. Pay attention to linking sounds.

A: Would you like to see a play?

B: No, but I'd love to see a comedy show.

LISTENING

3A  7.02 | Listen to the conversations. Put the photos (A–D) in the order that the speakers talk about them.

B Work in pairs and look at the questions (a–h). Which question can you ask after each conversation?

Conversation 1: Camila (Spain)

Conversation 2: Tamiko (Japan)

Conversation 3: Anna and David (Hungary)

Conversation 4: Stef (New York City)

- What's the festival about? 1
- Where are you going sightseeing in the afternoon?
- Is the restaurant expensive?
- Is your husband taking you to dinner, too?
- Have you ever eaten there before?
- Do you like any other types of music?
- What are you seeing?
- Is your favourite band playing?

C  7.02 | Listen again and check.

D Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

- Which place would you most like to go to? Why?
- Tell your partner about:
 - a place where you like to listen to live music.
 - a place where you eat out with friends.
 - a place where you watch films.

SPEAKING

5A Complete the diary pages for your weekend with four activities. Choose from the word webs in Ex 1B or use your own ideas.

	SATURDAY	SUNDAY Morning
Afternoon
Early evening
Late evening

B For each activity, add details.

- What is it? • Where is it? • When exactly is it?

C Work in pairs. Make an arrangement to do one of your activities. Use these phrases in the conversation.

What are you doing on (Saturday morning)?

Would you like to ... ?

Sorry, I can't. I'm (having coffee with a friend).

I'd love to. Where shall we meet?

6 Read the Future Skills box. Then work with other students. Make arrangements to do some of your activities with one or more people, and add their names to the diary pages.

FUTURE SKILLS Communication

When you want to check an arrangement, repeat the information. You can say things like, 'So, that's half past six for a coffee?' Make sure you check your arrangements at the end of the conversation.

WRITING

7A Read the beginning of the email from Bina and answer the questions.

- Why is she writing?
- What sort of things do you think are on her list? Write five ideas.

Dear Saphina,

I'm really pleased that you're coming to visit me in Munich. I've got some ideas for things we can do together. There are some great places to go in the city and the river is beautiful, so we have a lot of possibilities. I'll write them all here, so tell me which ones you like and I can make the arrangements (buy tickets, book a restaurant, etc.).

3 A Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

- What are the most popular types of takeaway food in the world?
- Which takeaway food is the most popular in each of these countries?
• Australia • Brazil • China • South Africa • Turkey • the USA
- What is the most important thing when companies deliver food to people's homes?
- What are different ways that companies can deliver food?

B Read the article quickly and find the answers to questions 2–4 in Ex 3A.

C Work in pairs. What can you remember?

- How did a margherita pizza get its name?
- What's the connection between TV and takeaway?
- Near the end of the twentieth century, what change happened to takeaway deliveries?
- What things are the same about all types of takeaway?
- How are 'dark kitchens' different from restaurant kitchens?

D Read the article again and check your ideas for Ex 3C.

4 Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

- What did you find new or interesting in the article?
- What do you think are the positive and negative points about takeaway?

Takeaway around the world

The year was 1889, the place was Naples, Italy, and the customers were King Umberto I and Queen Margherita. The king and queen wanted something to eat, so a chef from a local pizzeria brought them three pizzas ... and home delivery was born. Queen Margherita liked the mozzarella pizza the most, so the chef named the pizza the 'Margherita'!

It was a long time before takeaway food as we know it became normal – pizza delivery started in the USA in the 1950s, when more and more people started to have televisions in their homes. People enjoyed eating dinner in front of the TV instead of at their tables or in a restaurant. Fast-forward to the 1990s and we started ordering food online, and today it's possible to order everything with an app, not only food.

In the world of takeaway food, there isn't anything more popular than pizza. It's number one in most of Europe, the Middle East and parts of South America. But Chinese food comes top in

- 6A  7.03 | sentence stress with indefinite pronouns | Listen and write the sentences.
- B Find the indefinite pronoun and the adjective in each sentence.
- C  7.03 | Listen again. Do we stress the indefinite pronoun, the adjective or both?
- D Change some of the words after the indefinite pronoun in each sentence to make it true for you.
I'd like something ~~hot to drink~~ good to read.
- E Work in pairs and tell each other your sentences. Give each other some suggestions.
A: I'd like something good to read.
B: Do you like detective stories?
A: Yes, I do.
B: There's a good book by ... It's called ...

the USA, Australia and ... China. In Brazil, Portugal and Sweden it's sushi; in Turkey it's pasta; and in South Africa and Canada it's fish and chips. All of these foods have one thing in common – they travel well, and most of them are not expensive.

As takeaway becomes more popular, the competition for takeaway business becomes stronger, and restaurants have to find ways to increase their sales. Speed is important – no one likes waiting for their food. Some fast-food companies have 'dark kitchens' in different parts of a city where only takeaway food is prepared. They can deliver to anyone, anywhere in the city, more quickly than normal restaurants can. And businesses have found new ways of delivering their products. In addition to car and bike, you can get your takeaway by drone, by robot and even by parachute.

So what does the future hold for takeaway food? Find out in Part 2 of this series.

SPEAKING

- 7A Work in pairs and read the class survey about food. Which information do you think is true for your class?

eating in and out

- 1 One person knows someone who never eats takeaway.
- 2 Three of us have worked as a delivery person.
- 3 Everyone can recommend somewhere good to eat.
- 4 Three people don't like having a meal out in a big group.
- 5 Two people have eaten something unusual in a restaurant.
- 6 All of us eat something green every day.
- 7 No one has been a waiter in a restaurant.
- 8 Someone knows someone who owns a restaurant.
- 9 One person doesn't go anywhere for dinner on their birthday (because they have friends round).
- 10 No one thinks everyone should know how to cook.
- 11 Two of us like eating alone in restaurants.
- 12 Everyone thinks nothing is better than home cooking.

- B Work in pairs. Choose two different sentences each from the survey in Ex 7A. Then talk to other students in the class and find out if the sentences are true.

A: Do you know anyone who never eats takeaway?

B: Yes, my mother. She hates takeaway.

A: OK, thanks.

- C Work with the same partner. Tell each other the information you found and if necessary, change the sentences in Ex 7A so that they are true.

C: You asked the first question. How many people did you find?

A: I found three people that know someone who never eats takeaway. And, so do I! My grandparents never eat takeaway.

C: So, let's change that to 'Four people know someone who never eats takeaway.'

- D Work as a class. Make changes to the survey so that it is true for the whole class.

Van Gogh Immersive Exhibition

This exhibition is an incredible experience. It's a brilliant mix of tradition and technology. You walk into a room and all around you there are animated films of van Gogh's paintings. You can walk through a night full of stars or fields of sunflowers. You can sit on the famous chair in van Gogh's bedroom. You should use the VR glasses – you have to pay extra, but not very much. With the glasses, you can walk through van Gogh's town from his bedroom to the town centre.

The MALBA (Museum of Latin American Art of Buenos Aires)

I really love the paintings of Frida Kahlo and Diego Rivera, so it was fantastic to go to the MALBA when I was in Buenos Aires. It has an amazing collection of old and new art from Latin America. Some of the political paintings from the 1930s are very powerful. I felt like I was travelling back in time when I looked at them.

The Museum of Ice Cream

This museum is great for Instagram photos. They let you climb on some of the objects and take selfies. My friend took over fifty photos of me: me in the Rainbow Tunnel, me in the Banana Split room, me in the Sprinkle Pool, and me eating lots of ice cream and sweets. It's great for children of all ages, families, and of course for anyone who loves ice cream. You have to book your arrival time, so don't be late.

WRITING

describe a favourite picture

- 7 Read the description of a painting. What does the writer like most about the painting?

My favourite picture

I saw a painting in an art gallery many years ago. It's one of my favourite paintings. I don't remember the artist's name, but I remember the painting clearly. It's a picture of a café at night. The café has big windows, so you can see the people inside. I think the year it was set in is around 1940 or 1950. The people are sitting at a counter – there are no tables. On the left-hand side of the café, a man is sitting alone, and we only see his back. In the middle, a couple is sitting and maybe talking. The woman is wearing a red dress. Both men have hats on. And on the right, the waiter is bending over in front of a coffee machine. The street outside the café is empty, and on the left of the café, in the background, you can see a building with its windows completely dark. I love this painting because of the feeling of the picture. The night feels so empty and the people in the café look so lonely.

D Work in pairs. Discuss the questions in Ex 1C.

Change for the better?

Everything changes, and nothing stays the same. Is that a good thing? Anyone over ten years old can understand how quickly technology has changed, and the speed of change is increasing all the time. Machines are getting smaller, the internet is getting faster. The prices of things like phones and TVs are going down. Life, some say, is improving, and the world is becoming a better place.

READING

- 2A Work in pairs and read the introduction to an article about drones. How do you think we can use them to help us (for example, saving lives, health, sport)?

Drones: a good thing?

For many of us, drones are a fun toy or a way to take amazing videos from up in the air. But drones have many uses, and the number of uses will increase greatly over the next fifty years. All around the world, people are using drones in positive ways to improve society and help people's lives. Here are some ways they are helping people, and some predictions about their future.

- B Work in pairs. Read two versions of the article.
Student A: Go to page 145. Student B: Go to page 149.

- 3 Work in pairs. What other positive uses do you think drones can have? Use the topics below to help.

will for predictions

- 4A Look at the sentences. Find examples of the positive and negative forms of will.

- 1 The number of uses of drones will increase greatly over the next fifty years.
- 2 More rescues will happen this way.
- 3 This will mean that healthcare can get to many different places.
- 4 In the future, companies think that drone racing will become more popular.
- 5 Perhaps it won't become an Olympic sport.
- 6 It will probably develop into a professional sport.

- B Choose the correct words to complete the rules.

- 1 After will we use the -ing form / infinitive.
- 2 The contracted form of will not is 'll not / won't.
- 3 We use will to say what we think about the future / talk about our plans.
- 4 We use probably and maybe when we're sure / not sure.

A: In 'It'll change my life a lot,' I think 'it' can mean a new job.

B: Yes, or winning the lottery.

SPEAKING

- 6A Work in pairs and look at the ideas about the future (1–8). Which predictions do you think will come true? When will they come true?

- 1 Most people will have self-driving cars.
- 2 Everyone will have a smart 'wrist-phone' instead of a smartphone.
- 3 There will be free internet everywhere in the world.
- 4 No one will need glasses. Doctors will be able to fix all eye problems.
- 5 It won't be unusual to live to 120 years.
- 6 Computers won't have keyboards. We'll always dictate words and instructions.
- 7 The price of water will go up and be more expensive than oil.
- 8 People won't eat meat anymore.

I think it'll happen in about fifty years.

I imagine it'll come true, but not for a very long time.

I don't think it'll happen.

I think it'll come true, but it won't happen everywhere at the same time.

It probably won't happen in my country.

SPEAKING

6A Work alone. Read the situations (1–5) and choose two that interest you.

What next?

1 You're eighteen and you're not sure what to do next. You can:

- a go to university.
- b take a year off and travel.
- c take a year off and work.

2 You want to get fitter. You can:

- a join a free running group; they run at 6 a.m. every day.
- b join a gym.
- c buy an exercise bike.

3 You want to go on holiday in the summer, but you also want to buy a new phone. You can:

- a spend all your money on the phone and go camping for a week.
- b go for a long weekend somewhere nice and buy a less expensive phone.
- c spend all the money on a really nice one-week holiday in the sun and keep your old phone for a year.

4 You're not very happy in your job, but the pay is good. You can:

- a move to a new city a long way from home for a better job.
- b stay in your home and job for another fifteen years and retire early.
- c take a chance and start your own company.

5 You live in a small apartment in a very good location. You want a bigger place. You can:

Tomorrow's Food

GRAMMAR | word building: nouns to adjectives

SPEAKING | have a discussion

WRITING | give an opinion

PREVIEW

1 A List five things that you often eat. Then work in pairs and discuss the questions.

- 1 Where does each type of food come from?
- 2 How important is it to know where your food comes from?

B Read the BBC programme information and answer the questions.

- 1 Can you think of some examples of the way technology can change farming, shopping and eating in restaurants?
- 2 How do you think technology can increase the production of tomatoes?

Tomorrow's Food

The way we grow, buy and eat our food is changing. New technology means new ways of farming, shopping and eating in restaurants. Tomorrow's Food explores the many ways that the world of food is changing, and with it our lives. In this episode, host Dara Ó Briain visits the largest greenhouse farm in the UK and finds out how technology makes it possible to produce over 400 million tomatoes every year.

VIEW

2 A Work in pairs. Which is the correct alternative, do you think?

- 1 The hi-tech greenhouse doesn't use soil because soil is difficult to wash / move / control.
- 2 The tomato plants grow in wool / rock / rock wool.
- 3 Computers control wind / temperature / sound levels.
- 4 The farm uses insects / insecticide / light to kill insects.
- 5 Scientists can mix two plants into one, and grow tomatoes and salad / potatoes / peppers on the same plant.

B Watch the BBC video clip and check your ideas in Ex 2A.

C Work in pairs. Match the sentences (1–6) with the sentences (a–f) that follow them.

- 1 Here there are no problems with the weather. c
 - 2 How many tomato plants do you have here?
 - 3 What's the problem with soil?
 - 4 At night, computers turn the temperature down.
 - 5 But you can't use technology for everything.
 - 6 The bumble bee has an important task.
- a Growing in soil gives us less control, and this is all about control.
b It carries pollen from one plant to another.
c It's never too cold or too windy.
d Sometimes nature has a better way to solve problems.
e It's a clever way to make the plants produce more tomatoes.
f Well, in total we have about 1.5 million plants here.

D Watch again and check.

3 Work in pairs and discuss the questions.

- 1 Would you like to eat tomatoes from this greenhouse? Why/Why not?
- 2 How are the changes in this programme positive? How are they negative?

GRAMMAR

have a discussion

- 5A Work in pairs. Look at the predictions about the future of food and answer the questions (1–2).

Insects will be on the menu at fast-food restaurants all over the world.

Many common foods, like potatoes, bananas, avocados and strawberries, will disappear by 2050 or sooner.

- 1 How do you feel about each prediction?
- 2 Do you think it will happen? Is it true already?

B 8.09 | Listen to two people discussing the predictions. How do they answer the questions in Ex 5A?

C Work in pairs. Look at the Key phrases. Which three phrases do NOT show surprise?

KEY PHRASES

That can't be true.
Really? I didn't know that.
Does it really say that?
Are you joking/kidding?
That's surprising/wonderful.
That's terrible/a shame.
I don't believe it will happen.
No way!
Wait, say that again.

D 8.09 | Listen to the conversation again and tick the Key phrases that the man uses.

- 6 Work in pairs. Student A: Go to page 145. Student B: Go to page 146.

WRITING

give an opinion

- 7A Read the text. Does the writer think the idea is a good one or not?

Food will come in packaging you can eat

¹It's already true that food comes in packaging that you can eat, but it's not common. There's a kind of sweet you can get in my country and it's packaged in rice paper. The paper is made from rice which you can eat. I don't know about other examples.

²I think it's a good idea if more food comes in packaging that you can eat. We throw away too much paper and other types of packaging and there's a big problem with rubbish. If we eat the packaging and don't throw it away, there will be less rubbish and that's a good thing.

³There are some problems with the idea. If you can eat the packaging, it has to be completely clean, so the packaging will need packaging. Also, I imagine that the cost of food will go up, and many people won't buy the food with packaging that you can eat for this reason. Finally, I think that a lot of people will simply hate the idea of eating packaging. It's very difficult to change people's habits.

⁴In the end, I think it's a good idea, but maybe not for all food. It will be interesting to see what happens in the future with food packaging. I'm open to change!

B Match the questions (a–d) with the paragraphs (1–4) in the text.

- a What's good about it?
- b What's your opinion?
- c Is it already true?
- d What's bad about it?

- 8A Choose one of the ideas about the future of food from Ex 6. Make notes to answer the questions in Ex 7B.

B Write about your opinion. Use your notes in Ex 8A to help. Pay attention to paragraphing.

C Read other students' ideas. Tell them which parts you agree with.

To Austin Grainger

From Rita Clarke

Subject All my news!

Hi Austin,

¹Sorry I'm only writing now. I arrived here two weeks ago and the first few days were very busy. I'm meeting a lot of new people and everyone is really friendly.

²I'm living in a flat with three other students. They're from different countries – Mexico, Brazil and Turkey – so we speak English together. We also cook together most days, and we're going for walks around the neighbourhood. It's a really good area, with lots of small shops and cafés.

³Classes started on Monday. As you know, my main subject is French and the classes are good. I'm also studying Italian because I want to go to Italy next year. I like the Italian teacher. He comes from Rome and he's very funny. I'm also doing a cooking class on Wednesday evenings, Italian cooking of course.

⁴I hope you're doing OK. Please write and tell me your news. How is your family? How are things at your university? Where are you living? How are your studies? Who do you spend time with at the weekends?

Missing you!

Rita

a Mexico. b Italy. c Brazil.
- Austin is a at school. b a university student. c working for a company.

C Work in pairs and answer the questions.

- How many paragraphs are there in the email?
- Why are there different paragraphs?
a Because you can only have five sentences together.
b Because the topic changes.

D Match the paragraphs (1–4) with the topics (a–d).

- closing the email and asking questions
- general information about her life
- her studies and/or work
- her living situation

2 A Prepare to write an email to a friend or relative about your news. Choose three or more of the topics (1–6) and make notes about each one.

- your studies or work
- what you're doing these days
- your habits or routines
- your family and/or friends and what they're doing
- where you're living
- questions to your friend or relative

B Write your email. Decide on the order of the topics and start a new paragraph for each one.

C Work in pairs. Read your partner's email. Which topics did they write about? Did they use a similar paragraph order to you?

2A write an animal story; use past time expressions

1 A Read the complete story. How is the ending similar or different to your ideas in Ex 7B on page 19?

I'm a teacher. Last year I took my primary school class to the zoo, and one of the workers at the zoo was showing us a monkey. The monkey was in a large cage, and he was jumping around and trying to get out. While the worker was getting some food for him from another room, one of the children – one of my students – opened the cage. I ran over to close it, but 'at that exact moment', the monkey ran out.

The worker came back and saw the problem. She wasn't angry at all – in fact, she was very calm. She made a phone call and ten minutes 'after that', a small fire engine arrived with two firefighters. The monkey was still in the zoo, but up a tree. The firefighters were really clever. First, one firefighter put the ladder up on one side of the tree. 'Then', the other one started throwing food to the monkey from the other side. The monkey was paying attention to the food and didn't see the first firefighter on the ladder. The firefighter on the ladder caught the monkey with a net – he (the monkey) was very surprised!

'Afterwards', the children all said that this was the best class trip ever. I was happy for them of course, but I was really stressed!

B Work in pairs. Replace 1–4 in the story with the past time expressions in the box.

just then later (x2) next

2 A Choose the correct words to complete the sentences.

- 1 We sat down for dinner and were starting to eat. Just then / Later, the phone rang. Our dog was in the neighbour's garden.
- 2 It was a long day for all of us, and we got very wet in the rain. Next / Later, when we were thinking about it, we didn't remember the rain, only the fun time we had together.
- 3 First we stood in a circle. Next / Just then, each person said their name and nationality.

B Complete the sentences with your own ideas.

- 1 It was a bad day. First, I lost my wallet. Next, ...
- 2 We were walking through the forest. It was very dark, and very quiet. Just then, ...
- 3 On Saturday my cousin visited. We baked a cake. Later, ...

3 A Work alone. You're going to write a story. Choose from the ideas below.

- your own story about an animal rescue
- a story about one of the headlines in Ex 6A on page 19
- one of the picture stories in Ex 6B on page 19
- a story about another type of rescue

B Make notes on your answers to the questions below.

- 1 Where did it happen?
- 2 Who was there?
- 3 What were they doing before the main events of the story?
- 4 What were the main events of the story?
- 5 What happened in the end?
- 6 How did the people in the story feel about it later?

C Write your story. Use at least two past time expressions. Include some background information using the past continuous.

D Work with other students. Read each other's stories and ask questions about them.

3B write a quiz; correct mistakes

1 A Look at the culture quiz and find:

- two mistakes with question forms.
- two mistakes with prepositions.
- two mistakes with spelling or capitalisation.

B Work in pairs and complete the quiz.

2 A Work in pairs and write a quiz. Use the same topics as in the quiz below. Write two questions for each topic.

4A write a description of a first-time experience; link ideas

1 A Read the complete description. Check your answers to Ex 7A on page 39.

B Work in pairs. How many different tenses does the writer use?

2 A Choose the correct word to complete the sentences.

- 1 I love cycling, so / but I've never ridden along the canal.
- 2 Then last Sunday, I decided to try it, so / because I went out with some friends.
- 3 I've often ridden to the market from my home because / so I like the fresh food there.

B Use the questions to check your work.

- 1 Did you use different tenses, as in the model?
- 2 Did you use different linkers?
- 3 Are there places you could add linkers?

C Show your description to another student and read theirs. Make a note of three questions to ask them about their description.

D Work in pairs. Ask your questions.

A first-time experience

Recently, I did something for the first time. I live very near a canal in west London and I love cycling, but I've never ridden along the canal. Then last Sunday, I decided to try it, so I went out with some friends and we cycled along the canal near my home to a local market about five kilometres away.

I've often ridden to the market from my home because I like the fresh food there. Although my normal route is quite short, it's very dirty and noisy with busy roads and lots of traffic. The route along the canal took a lot longer, but it was really beautiful. We rode along the sides of parks and the backs of some industrial buildings and we saw a surprising number of birds and other wildlife. Best of all were the canal boats with people living in them. It's a way of life that I've never seen before. The people on the boats were really friendly and one boat was selling coffee and cold drinks. We wanted a break, so we all stopped to have a drink.

We stopped several times because we wanted to enjoy the views or to take photos and we missed the market. I'm going to cycle there next weekend, although this time I'm not going to stop so often.

5A write a description of a past event; use pronouns and adverbs to avoid repetition

1 A Read the description. Check your ideas from Ex 6A on page 49.

We asked you to tell us your lost and found stories, and you did!

AntonioC38

This story actually started last year when I was walking in my local woods with Leo, my son. It was a really sunny day, so I was wearing my sunglasses. We stopped and played football for about half an hour. Later, when we were nearly home, I reached into my pocket, but they weren't there!

B Work in pairs. What do they and there in the last sentence refer to?

C Read the rest of the description. Replace the words and phrases in bold with a single word to avoid repetition.

The glasses were a gift from my wife. ¹The glasses changed from normal glasses to sunglasses when the light changed. I really loved ²the sunglasses. Leo and I walked back. It took ³Leo and I over an hour to search everywhere, but ⁴Leo and I couldn't find ⁵the sunglasses. ⁶The sunglasses weren't ⁷at that place. Leo was very sweet. ⁸Leo knew I needed sunglasses, so he offered to give me ⁹his sunglasses, but I said no. When we got home, I had to tell my wife and ¹⁰my wife wasn't very happy because the glasses were very expensive.

¹¹Losing the sunglasses in the woods happened over a year ago now. Then last week I was walking in the same woods again and I saw something on a large stone. It was a pair of sunglasses and they were ¹²my sunglasses! It's funny, I wasn't looking for them at that time, so I was really surprised.

How did ¹³the sunglasses get on the stone? Who put the sunglasses ¹⁴on the stone? Why? It's a mystery!

2 Complete the descriptions. Use one word in each gap.

Last time I came back from Spain I picked up another woman's bag at the airport. I discovered it wasn't ¹..... when I was getting into my taxi. I went back inside the airport. When I got ²....., I saw a woman. She was running towards me and she told me that the bag was ³..... and that she had my bag. Both of ⁴..... were very pleased!

I've never lost anything important, but three years ago my father lost his wedding ring. We were living in the countryside ⁵..... and he was working in the garden when he lost ⁶..... 'I had to tell your mother. ⁷..... was really sad.' My parents moved to an apartment two years ago, but this week they got a message from the new people in the house. It was a photo of a carrot, with a ring around it! It was ⁸.....! He phoned ⁹..... and is going to drive ¹⁰..... to collect it next week.

3A Write a description of a time you lost something and later found it.

B Work in pairs. Read each other's descriptions. Find any places where there is repetition and suggest ways of avoiding it.

C Read other students' descriptions. Which one is the most surprising?

6B write an informal email giving news

- 1 A Read the complete email from Ex 8A on page 61.
What three stressful things have happened in Celia's life recently?

To Tasneem Bankole
From Celia Pereyra
Subject Apologies ... SO busy!

Hi Tasneem,

Thanks for your email. It was great to hear all your news. I'm so happy about your new job. How's that going?

I'm sorry that it's taken me a few weeks to write back, but I've been really busy with work and the big move and a few other things. To be honest, life's really stressful at the moment. We've finished moving into the new place, and the move was much more difficult than I expected. Our new place is in the city centre and it's not possible to park in front of the building, so moving our things was a big headache. Some friends from work helped us, and that was nice. But then the electricity suddenly went off, so we had no power for the first two days. Not having lights isn't a big problem, but no air conditioning? In the middle of summer? You can imagine.

The other big news is that Johannes has just lost his job. He didn't really like it, but we need the money. With my job, we have enough money to pay the rent, so we'll be OK for a while. I hope he finds something soon, as he's been really unhappy.

That's all my news for now. Sorry it's not more positive! Give my regards to everyone there. I hope you can come and visit us soon. You'll love our new place!

Bye for now,
Celia

- B Complete the phrases. Then check in the email.

- 1 Bye now,
- 2 Give my to everyone there.
- 3 Tasneem,
- 4 I've been really with work ...
- 5 We finished moving into the new place.
- 6 It was great to all your news.
- 7 Thanks your email.
- 8 That's my news for now.
- 9 other big news is that Johannes has just lost his job.

- C Put the phrases (1–9) from Ex 1B in the correct group.

- D Which four words does Celia use to connect sentences and make longer sentences?

and, ...

- 2 A Prepare to write an informal email to a friend giving news. Write three things that you have done recently, or that have happened to you.

- B Write your email. Try to use phrases from Ex 1C.

- C Work in pairs. Read each other's emails. Find places where your partner can join sentences to make longer ones.

- D Send your email to someone in the class. Write an answer to the email you receive.

7A write an email making arrangements

- 1 A Read the complete email. How many of your ideas from Ex 7A on page 69 does Bina suggest?

Dear Saphina,

I'm really pleased that you're coming to visit me in Munich. I've got some ideas for things we can do together. There are some great places to go in the city and the river is beautiful, so we have a lot of possibilities. I'll write them all here, so tell me which ones you like and I can make the arrangements (buy tickets, book a restaurant, etc.).

- Rent bikes and go cycling along the river.
- Go to the theatre. There's a great new musical at the local theatre here.
- Go to a basketball match.
- See some live music. There's a good local band playing on Saturday night.
- Go to the market and have lunch there. There are some nice restaurants in the market. Or shall we buy some food there and make dinner together at home?
- Have some friends round for a party.

So tell me what looks good to you! Also, when exactly are you arriving and when are you leaving? I want to meet you at the station, but I need all the details.

Looking forward to seeing you!

Bina

- B Read the email again and answer the questions.

- 1 Which three activities in the list would you like to do the most?
- 2 Which activities does Bina need to arrange (buy tickets, call people, etc.)?

- C Read Bina's next email to Saphina.

- 1 Which activities from the first email did Saphina choose?
- 2 What other activities did Bina add to their plans?

Dear Saphina,

I've made all the plans. We're going to be very busy, but I think you're going to enjoy it.

Here's the plan. On Thursday night, after you arrive, we're having dinner at my place. Some of my friends are coming round and I really want you to meet them (and for them to meet you!). Then on Friday morning, we're renting bikes and cycling up the river to the next town. There's a fish restaurant next to the river and we can have lunch there. I didn't make plans for the afternoon. After cycling, I think we'll be tired and we can have a rest. For the evening, we're going to the theatre; I got the last two tickets for the musical! On Saturday we can go to the market and buy some food to cook for dinner. We can have lunch in the market. Then in the evening, after dinner, we're going to a club.

See you at the station on Thursday at 18.30. Look for me under the big clock in the main hall.

Bye for now!

Bina

- D Look at the email in Ex 1C again and answer the questions.

- 1 How many examples of the present continuous are there?
- 2 Why does Bina choose the present continuous?

- 2 A An old classmate of yours is coming to visit you. Write down six activities that you can do together.

- B Work in pairs and take turns. Tell your partner the six activities and ask them to choose their top three.

- C Write them an email and describe your plans for their visit. Use the email in Ex 1C to help. The email needs to say:

- the activities you have planned (use the information from Ex 2B to choose the activities).
- when you will do each activity (which day, time of day).
- when and where you will meet them when they arrive.

8B write an advice post

1 A Read the question. Check your ideas from Ex 8A on page 81.

PurpleRose04

I'm going to university next year and I have a difficult decision. Which subject should I do? I love history, but I worry that there aren't many jobs for someone with a history degree. My parents say business studies is a better idea. They say that there are more jobs and better money in business. What should I do?

♡ Like 💬 Comments ➦ Share

B Work in pairs and discuss. What is good advice for this person?

C Read the complete reply to the question. Do you agree with the advice? Why/Why not?

Liam_79

4 hrs ago

Well, PurpleRose04,

That's a difficult decision. When I was younger, and I had to make the same decision, some people told me, 'Do what you love.' However, I don't think it's that simple.

If you choose history, you'll enjoy your university studies. You'll probably be happy to work hard and your whole experience will be positive. You'll finish university with a feeling that you've done something that is right for you. Maybe there won't be many job possibilities with a direct link to history, although you could become a history teacher. Teaching is a great job for the right person – many people love it.

If you choose business studies, it's possible that you'll enjoy your studies, although it's also possible that you won't. If you don't enjoy the course, you'll probably be a bit bored or unhappy, but perhaps it will be easier to find a job with very good pay.

How about doing this? Think about yourself in ten years' time, first as a history teacher or professor with not very good pay, and then as a business person with very good pay. Which life do you want to live? I think that in the end, you should think about this question: How important is money to you? If you have enough money to live, but not (for example) to travel very much, or to buy a big house, will that be OK for you? Will you be happy?

D Read the reply again and answer the questions.

- 1 How many times does the writer use the first conditional in the second and third paragraphs?
- 2 Which two phrases does the writer use to make suggestions in the last paragraph?
- 3 What other phrases do you know for making suggestions?

2 A Look at the questions and choose one to write a reply to.

- 1 My ex-girlfriend is getting married next month. She has invited me to the wedding. We're still friends, but I feel uncomfortable about going to the wedding. I don't want to hurt her feelings. Should I go?
- 2 My flatmate is looking for a job. He goes to interviews about three times a week and everyone says no. I think one problem is his clothes. He wears an old suit and hat that were his father's. He likes his clothes, so I need to be careful. How can I help him?
- 3 I borrowed my grandmother's car and had a small accident and broke one of the back lights. When I returned the car, she didn't see the problem. That was two weeks ago. Then yesterday she called me, very angry, and said that someone broke a light on her car during the night. Should I tell her the truth?
- 4 I won a large amount of money last month. I want to use it to buy a new car and fix up my flat, but my brother doesn't have a job. He's tried to find jobs, but there's no work at the moment and he needs money to pay his rent and bills. Should I help him or help myself?

-	We Zahra	don't see doesn't like	my sister very often. big cities.
?	When do you How often does it Do	get rain you	home? here? work together?

We use the present simple:

- for actions that are habits or routines.
I wake up at five o'clock every day.
- for things that are always or generally true.
Jonas comes from Germany.

We often use frequency adverbs with the present simple: always, usually, often, sometimes, hardly ever, never.

We hardly ever go to the cinema.

Present continuous

+	I Yuzuru They	'm 's 're	cooking at the moment. playing tennis right now. staying with us this week.

We use the present continuous:

- for an activity that is happening now or at the moment of speaking.
I'm talking to Leah. Can I call you back?
- for a temporary activity that is happening around now.
We're studying Indian art this month.

We often use these time phrases with the present continuous: right now, now, at the moment, this week/month/year, these days.

Right now we're looking for a new apartment.

I'm not doing very much sport these days.

State verbs

We don't usually use the present continuous with state verbs. State verbs describe feelings or states, not actions or activities. Some state verbs are: cost, like, love, hate, want, understand, know, mean, need.

I don't understand. NOT I'm not understanding.

What does 'hide' mean? NOT What is 'hide' meaning?

Hey, Nico. I'm really sorry, but I can't come tonight. I'm not feeling well.

Don't
Sorry to hear that. /worry. Maybe tomorrow?

I'm not sure. It depends. I'm so sorry.

Really, understand. Call me tomorrow.

Thanks. Sorry again.

It fine, really. Get some rest.

Chat

Hi Annie, what great photo of you! Where are you?

In Portugal, at a conference. I'm going to give a talk tomorrow.

How are you feeling?

Not very confident.

You be really good.

I'm not sure. I'm going to relax now.

I think a very good idea! Good luck tomorrow.

Thanks.

1D verb + -ing form

REFERENCE

◀ page 15

Sometimes we use two verbs together.

I enjoy cooking.

I don't like working at the weekend.

We use the -ing form of the second verb after verbs of feeling: *love, like, enjoy, not mind, dislike, hate, etc.

not mind* = it's not a problem

I don't mind packing.

Priya doesn't mind waiting.

infinitive	-ing form	spelling
join cry	joining crying	most verbs, add -ing hide wake up	hiding waking up	verbs ending -e , change -e to -ing
swim begin	swimming beginning	verbs ending consonant + vowel + consonant (CVC), double the final consonant and add -ing know play	knowing playing	verbs ending CVC with -y, -w or -x , do not double the final consonant offer develop	offering developing	verbs ending CVC when the stress is not on the final syllable, do not double the final consonant* begin → beginning*: the stress is on the final syllable. Double the -n.

offer, develop → offering, developing: the stress is not on the final syllable. Don't double the -r or the -p.

In the negative, we can also use not + -ing.

I don't like video meetings. I hate not meeting people face to face.

We use like, love, hate + -ing form to talk about things that are always true.

We use would like, would love, would hate + to infinitive to talk about something we want or don't want now or in the future.

I like listening to your travel stories, and I'd love to hear more, but not now.

I love visiting really hot countries, but I'd hate to live in a hot country.

Notice

After like, love and hate, it is also possible to use the to infinitive when talking about the present.

I like dancing. I like to dance.

I love swimming. I love to swim.

I hate being late. I hate to be late.

In most situations there's no difference between the two forms and the to infinitive is becoming common in spoken English.

We don't use the to infinitive after enjoy and not mind.

PRACTICE

1 Complete the sentences with the -ing form of the verb in brackets.

When I was young:

- I liked to my friends on social media. (chat)
- I didn't like to bed early. (go)
- I enjoyed races at school. (win)
- I loved a new exercise book. (open)
- I loved a party on my birthday. (have)
- I hated clothes. (choose)
- I didn't mind the piano. (practise)
- I disliked new people. (meet)
- I hated the washing up. (do)
- I didn't mind my school uniform. (wear)

2 Choose the correct words to complete the sentences.

- Sam doesn't mind working / to work late.
- Janine would love developing / to develop her own business.
- I enjoy relaxing / to relax in the sun.
- Would you like having / to have a rest?
- Hurry up! I'd hate missing / to miss the train.
- I hate living not / not living near the sea.
- They don't like working, but they love spend / to spend money.
- She enjoys swimming / swiming in the sea, but not in a pool.

3 Complete the text with the -ing form of the verbs in the box.

answer arrive cut drive get listen repeat sit stand visit

What do you like most about your job?

Casey I'm a lorry driver. In my job, every day is different. I enjoy ¹ different places and I love ² in a new city. I don't mind being alone. I never get lonely because I usually listen to the radio or my music. Of course, I enjoy ³ and nowadays it's easier for me to drive a lorry than a car. What don't I like? Well, I hate ⁴ up early and I don't like ⁵ in the lorry all day. I often stop and go for a short walk.

Rowan I'm a hairdresser. I really enjoy ⁶ people's hair and I love ⁷ to their news. They tell me all about their lives. They often ask me about my holiday plans, but I don't mind ⁸ the same questions and ⁹ the same information nine or ten times a day. What don't I like? Well, I don't enjoy ¹⁰ all day, but I can't sit down and do my job.

2A past simple and continuous

◀ page 18

Past simple

We use the past simple to talk about finished actions in the past. We use it for single actions and for repeated actions.

They arrived home on Thursday evening.

When I was younger, I played football every Saturday morning.

For a list of irregular verbs, see page 175.

Past continuous

We use the past continuous to talk about actions and situations in progress:

- at a specific time in the past.

I was watching TV at eight o'clock yesterday evening.

- when another (completed) action happened.

I was watching TV when you called.

+	I/He/She You/We/They	was were	driving.
-	I/He/She You/We/They	wasn't weren't	listening.
wh- questions	What	was I/he/she were you/we/they	doing?
yes/no questions		Was I/he/she Were you/we/they	running?

Past simple or past continuous

We often use the past continuous when we are telling a story. We use it at the beginning to give the background situation.

I was checking my messages yesterday ...

Then we use the past simple for the main events in the story.

... when I saw a message from my brother. It said ...

We form the past continuous with be + -ing form.

when and while

We often use when or while to link two actions in the past.

We use when before the past continuous or the past simple.

I met Rosa Maria when I was working in Peru.

I was working in Peru when I met Rosa Maria.

We use while before the past continuous, but not before the past simple.

I saw Greta while I was waiting for a bus.

NOT I was waiting for a bus while I saw Greta.

Notice the difference:

When Jim arrived, we were watching TV.

(= We started watching TV before Jim arrived.)

When Jim arrived, we watched TV.

(= We started watching TV after Jim arrived.)

PRACTICE

1 Choose the correct words to complete the sentences.

- Jon cleaned / was cleaning the windows when he saw / was seeing me.
- When I got / was getting to work, Emma talked / was talking on the phone.
- It started / was starting snowing while we drove / were driving home.

- Your mother called / was calling while you had / were having a shower.
- I think I lost / was losing my phone while I ran / was running in the park.

2 Correct the sentences. Two sentences are correct. When

- ~~While~~ I left, the children were having breakfast.
- I locking the door when I heard a noise.
- Where Maria was working when you met?
- This time last week, we were relaxed on the beach.
- Was Mr Kingston looking for me?
- Sorry I no was listening to you. What did you say?
- Jean was sleeping while you called.
- What you were talking about when I came in?
- This time last year, we were travelling around Argentina.
- What you were doing at 7.30 yesterday?

3 Complete the story with the correct form of the verbs in the box. Use the past simple or the past continuous.

I turned off radio, but we didn't sleep after that.

2C How to ... make and accept offers

◀ page 23

Making offers

When we make an offer to help someone, we use:

- 'll + infinitive
I'll carry this case.
We'll drive you to the airport.
- can + infinitive
We can wash up while you have a rest.
Can I phone Stefan for you?
- Do you want me/us + to infinitive
Do you want me to talk to Laura?
Do you want us to get you a burger?
- Let me + infinitive
Let me hold that for you.
Let me try and open it.
- Shall I + infinitive
Shall I drive?
Shall I answer the door?

Accepting offers

We use these phrases to accept (say yes to) offers.

Yes, please.
Thanks. That's (really) kind/good of you.
That's a great help.
That would be great.

Refusing offers

We use these phrases to say no politely.

I'm fine, thank you/thanks.
It's OK, thanks.
Thank you, but I'm OK.

We use have to + infinitive when something is necessary. We use it for rules and obligations.

In these situations, we can't choose.

You have to drive on the right.

She has to finish the report before this afternoon.

We use don't have to + infinitive when something is not necessary or there are no rules or obligations.

In these situations, we can choose to do something or not do it.

You don't have to go to the party. (You choose.)

He doesn't have to have a dessert. (He can if he wants.)

We don't contract have to.

I have to speak to you now.

NOT ~~I've to speak to you now.~~

He has to wear a suit at work.

NOT ~~He's to wear a suit at work.~~

We can use short answers to yes/no questions with have to.

Yes, I do./Yes, she does.

No, you don't./No, he doesn't.

Notice

Use the auxiliary do/does not have/has.

Do I have to pay now?

NOT ~~Have I to pay now?~~

Does Teresa have to get a visa?

NOT ~~Has Teresa to get a visa?~~

We use can't + infinitive when something is prohibited. The rules say it isn't OK.

You can't take photos in here.

Notice

Don't have to is different from can't.

You don't have to come to the meeting.

(= It's not necessary. You can choose to come or not come.)

You can't come to the meeting. It's only for managers.

(= It's prohibited. There is a rule that says it's not OK.)

3C How to ... give instructions and check understanding

◀ page 33

Giving instructions

When we give instructions, we use:

- imperatives
Put the batteries into the mouse.
Don't hold it so high.
- always* or never + an imperative
Always check your batteries.
Never wash red clothes with white ones!
- the present simple with you
Then you drop it onto the table.
- have to* or need to
You have to do it very fast.
You need to press this button.
- linkers: first, now, next, then, after that, etc.
First you take a stick of spaghetti.
Now/Next light the end of it.
Then you light the candle with the spaghetti.
After that, put the spaghetti under water.
- like* + this/that
Hold the ball like this.

Notice

Imperatives are the same as the infinitive.
We don't use a negative verb with never.
NOT ~~Never don't wash red clothes with white ones!~~

Checking you understand instructions

When we want to check we understand, we can use these phrases:

Like this?

Is this right?

I'm not sure I understand.

Saying you don't understand

When we want to say we don't understand, we can use these words and phrases:

Sorry?

I don't know that word.

What does that mean?

Asking for another instruction

When we want to ask for another instruction, we can use these phrases:

That's all?

OK, what next?

What now?

What do I have to do next/after that?

What do I need to do next/after that?

Correcting instructions

When we give instructions and someone doesn't follow them correctly, we can use these phrases:

No, I meant ...

Not like that, like this.

Yes, but don't ...

PRACTICE

1 Match the sentence halves.

- | | |
|---------------------|--|
| 1 Always | a do after that? |
| 2 I don't | b 'cube' mean? |
| 3 What does | c meant your right hand. |

| 5 That's | e to be careful. |
| 6 What do I have to | f next? |
| 7 No, I | g know that word. |
| 8 You have | h all? |

2 Complete the conversation with the words and phrases in the box.

After First have Like Next you turn Now you add Remember always right sure I that that word What

- A: ¹..... you put the flour, sugar and baking powder in a bowl.
B: ²..... this?
A: Yes, that's fine. ³..... a little bit of salt and mix it around.
⁴..... mix the dry ingredients first.
B: I don't know ⁵..... – 'ingredients'.
A: It's these things – the flour, sugar, eggs, all that.
B: I understand. ⁶..... now?
A: ⁷..... that, you make a well, a hole, in the middle of the dry ingredients. ... Oh, no. Not like ⁸....., like this.
B: Oh, OK. What do I ⁹..... to do next?
A: Put the milk, egg and oil in the well. Then mix everything.
B: Is this ¹⁰.....?
A: Yes, great. ¹¹..... on the oven and get the dish ready ...
B: I'm not ¹²..... understand. Can you do this part?
A: Sure.

3 Correct the conversation. In sentences 1–10, add a word OR take a word away.

- A: ¹What do I have ^{to}/~~do~~?
B: ²Well, first you do choose five letters.
A: ³You like this? 'EKXWA'.
B: ⁴No, I did meant a word with five letters. ⁵Always you choose a word with vowels in it.
A: OK. 'MEETS'.
B: No, in your first go, ⁶never don't choose a word with a double letter. ⁷Do try 'ADIEU'.
A: ⁸I don't that word.
B: It means 'goodbye' in French and we use it in English. It's good because it has four vowels.
A: OK. Ah, now two letters are yellow. ⁹What does mean?
B: That means the letters are correct, but in the wrong place.
A: ¹⁰What is now?
B: Try another word. Use different letters.
A: 'CLOTH'.
B: Nice! And 'C' is green. So it's the right letter in the right place.
A: Oh, I see. And I have six goes. Right. This is a great game!

3D *had to, didn't have to, couldn'tREFERENCE

had to

We use had to + infinitive when something was necessary or was a rule in the past.

At school, we had to stand up when the teacher entered the room.

I had to get up early yesterday to go to the airport.

didn't have to

We use didn't have to + infinitive when something was not necessary or there was no rule.

We didn't have to wear a uniform.

He didn't have to work in the summer holidays, and he spent all his time on the beach.

couldn't

We use couldn't + infinitive when something was prohibited in the past. The rules say it wasn't OK.

We couldn't use our phones in class.

They couldn't get on the plane because they didn't have their passports.

Notice

Didn't have to is different from couldn't.

We didn't have to speak English all the time in the lesson. We sometimes spoke in Spanish.

(= It wasn't necessary. You could choose to speak English or not speak English.)

We couldn't speak Spanish in the lesson. So we always spoke in English.

(= It was prohibited. There was a rule that says it wasn't OK.)

Questions with had to

	wh-word	auxiliary	subject	verb	infinitive
wh-questions	Why	did	you	have to	work? wait?
yes/no questions		Did	she

We can use short answers to yes/no questions with had to.

Yes, we did./No, she didn't.

Notice

Use the auxiliary did not have.

Did you have to pay?

NOT Had you to pay?

PRACTICE1 Choose the correct words to complete the sentences.

- When I drove in the UK, I have to / had to drive on the left.

4A present perfect simple (1)

◀ page 38

We use the present perfect simple to talk about general experiences in our life, before now.

We don't say when because it isn't important or we don't know.

I've driven a bus. (= in my life before now)

Chris has never watched a football match. (= in his life before now)

Positive and negative

subject	auxiliary verb (have)	past participle	object or phrase
I/You/We/They	've (have) haven't	played	this game.
He/She/It	's (has) hasn't	seen	snow before.

For negatives we can also use never + a positive verb.

I've never swum in the ocean.

Past participles

Past participles of regular verbs are the same as the past simple.

We've stayed in this hotel three times. Jamil has worked in India.

Many common verbs have irregular past participles.

I've done a lot of different sports. Elena has driven a bus.

See page 175 for a list of irregular verbs and their past participles.

Go has two past participles, been (to) and gone (to).

My brother has been to Spain. (= He went to Spain and came back.)

My brother has gone to Spain. (= He's in Spain now.)

Been is also the past participle of be.

I've never been in a play. She's been really tired all week.

Questions

	wh- word	auxiliary	subject	past participle
wh- questions	Which countries	have	I/you/we/they	visited?
		has	he/she/it
yes/no questions		Have	I/you/we/they	been (to Spain)?
		Has	he/she/it

We can use short answers to yes/no questions in the present perfect simple.

Yes, they have./No, I haven't.

Yes, he has./No, she hasn't.

We can also ask questions with ever.

Have you ever flown in a small plane? (= in all of your life)

Notice

Look at the difference between the present perfect simple and the past simple.

I've been to Malaysia. (= We don't say when this happened. It is some time in my life before now.)

I went to Malaysia in 2020. (= We are speaking about a specific time in the past.)

We can use the present perfect simple to begin conversations, and then the past simple to ask about or give details.

A: Have you ever been to China?

B: Yes, I have.

A: When did you go?

B: I went in 2018.

PRACTICE

1 Complete the sentences with the present perfect simple form of the verbs in brackets.

- Gemi as a vet in Kenya. (work)
- Can you help me with this app? I it before. (not / use)
- I golf. (never / play)
- my manager, Amah? Amah, this is Robert. (you / meet)
- Jude to Montevideo and Salto. He loved both places! (go)
- in Canada? (Sofia / ever / live)
- That actor's very famous. He in lots of films. (be)
- How many videos ? (she / make)

2 Choose the correct words to complete the email.

Hi Mateo,

Wow! You're going to live in New Zealand for a year! ¹Have you been / Did you go to New Zealand before? I ²'ve been / was there twice and when I was there I ³'ve travelled / travelled all round North Island. It's beautiful! You asked me about Auckland. Yes, I've ⁴'been / gone there, too. I ⁵'ve stayed / stayed in Auckland in 2010 for a month. I was teaching at the university. It was in July and it ⁶'s rained / rained a lot, but I really enjoyed my stay.

I ⁷'ve never visited / never visited South Island, but my friend Carla ⁸has driven / drove all around it. She says it's beautiful. Last year, she ⁹'s gone / went to Queenstown and she ¹⁰'s done / did a bungee jump. I think she's very brave!

Write back to me and tell me more!
Dan

3 Use the prompts to make sentences and questions and complete the conversations. Use the present perfect simple and the past simple.

- A: you / ever / eat / Thai food?
B: Yes, / I / .
A: you / like / it?
B: Yes, / I / .
- A: I / see / this programme / before.
B: When / you / see / it?
A: I / see / it / last year. / I / not / like / it.
B: I / never / see / it.

4B comparatives and superlatives

◀ page 40

We use comparative adjectives + than to compare two people, places or things.

Rachel is younger than her sister.

We use superlative adjectives to compare three or more people, places or things.

We usually use the superlative with the.

My bedroom is the coldest room in the house.

rule	adjective	comparative	superlative
most one-syllable adjectives, add -er/-est	small	smaller	the smallest one-syllable adjectives ending -e , add -r/-st	safe	safer	the safest adjectives ending CVC*, double the final consonant, and add -er/-est	big	bigger	the biggest one- or two-syllable adjectives ending consonant + -y , change -y to -ier/-iest	heavy	heavier	the heaviest longer adjectives, more/most + adjective	dangerous	more dangerous	the most dangerous
all adjectives ending -ed , more/most + adjective	tired	more tired	the most tired irregular adjectives	good bad far	better worse further/ farther	the best the worst the furthest/ farthest

*CVC = consonant + vowel + consonant

We often use which to ask questions about the difference between two things.

Which is longer, the Yangtze River or the Amazon?

We often use in + place after superlative adjectives.

Sam's the youngest student in the class.

NOT ~~Sam's the youngest student of the class~~.

We also use superlative adjective + noun + to infinitive.

What's the hardest thing to learn?

It's the most comfortable place to stay.

We can use these phrases to say that something is the same or different:

the same as similar to different from

We can use the same, similar and different with a noun.

It's the same colour as your car.

It's a similar colour to your bag.

It's a different colour from your shirt.

PRACTICE

1 Complete the text with the comparative or superlative form of the adjectives in brackets.

When I started my job a year ago, I found it very difficult. Now, after one year, I feel ¹..... (confident) and I'm ²..... (positive) about everything. The ³..... (nice) things about working here are the people and my journey to work. Although the hours are ⁴..... (long) than in my last workplace, the people here don't mind working hard. All of them are ⁵..... (friendly) than in my last company. The ⁶..... (good) thing of all is that I don't have to catch the underground to come to work. I can walk. My ⁷..... (fast) time this year was twenty minutes from door to door. It's a lot ⁸..... (quick) than by underground and I feel ⁹..... (fit) and ¹⁰..... (strong) because of all the walking.

2 Correct the sentences. Two sentences are correct.

- English grammar is ~~more easy~~ easier than German grammar.
- It's more darker in the evenings than it was last month.
- Your computer is older that mine.
- She's most interesting person in our office.
- Which car is the cheapest?
- Your phone is similar of Ricki's.
- The best time for visit Mexico is from December to April.
- This meal is the same like yesterday's meal.
- My birthday was the most wettest day of the year.
- Paris is further from Berlin than Warsaw.
- My answer is different of your answer.
- It was the baddest day of my life.

3 Use the prompts to make sentences and questions and complete the conversations.

- Q: When / be / the / good / time / visit?
A1: Well, / although / it / be / warm / August, it / busy / other months.
A2: Yes, / it / be / quiet / May / other months / and / it / be / pretty / month / the year.
- Q: Be / the north of the country / same / the south?
A1: It / be / similar / the south.
A2: I think / it / be / very / different / the south. / The north / be / dry / and / hot / the south.
- Q: Which part / the country / the / beautiful?
A1: The west, / but / it / also / the / expensive.
A2: Yes, it / popular / place for holidays / the country.

4C How to ... make suggestions and recommendations

◀ page 43

Asking for suggestions and recommendations

We use these questions to ask for suggestions and recommendations:

- wh- question word + can/could + subject + infinitive

Where can I get some petrol?

When could I visit you?

- wh- question word + shall + I/we + infinitive

What shall we do tonight?

- wh- question word + should + I/we + infinitive

What sort of clothes should I bring?

We use should when we ask for stronger advice.

Making suggestions and recommendations

We use these phrases to make suggestions and recommendations:

- subject + can/could + infinitive

You can get petrol at the garage on the left.

You could come in August or September.

- Why don't + subject + infinitive

Why don't we watch a film?

- How about + -ing form

How about trying that new club?

- What about + -ing form

What about inviting Zsuzsa and Bence for dinner?

- subject + should + infinitive

You should bring a warm coat.

We use should when we give stronger advice.

We use these phrases to respond in a positive way to suggestions and recommendations:

That's a good idea.

That's an interesting idea.

That sounds really exciting.

That's fine with me.

We use these phrases to say we don't like a suggestion or recommendation:

I'm not sure.

I'm not sure that's a good idea.

I (don't) think he'd like it/that.

It's a bit expensive.

It's too dangerous.

We often make some phrases shorter:

Great idea! (= That's a great idea!)

Sounds good (to me).

PRACTICE

1 Match the sentence halves.

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|--|
| 1 How about | a we go to the Greek café? |
| 2 You should | b could cancel the meeting. |
| 3 Sounds good | c a good idea because the service is very slow. |
| 4 Good idea. Maybe he | d about phoning him and explaining the problem? |
| 5 Where shall we | e go for lunch? |
| 6 OK. So why don't | f like that. We have an important meeting. |
| 7 My tooth is really bad. What should | g going to that French restaurant near the gym? |
| 8 What | h I do? |
| 9 I'm not sure that's | i to me. |
| 10 I don't think my manager would | j make an appointment to see the dentist, today. |

2 Put the sentences in Ex 1 in the correct order to make two conversations.

Conversation 1

5, ...

Conversation 2

7, ...

3 Correct the conversation. In sentences 1–8, add a word OR take a word away.

A: ¹How ~~about~~ can we get to the airport tomorrow before 5 a.m.?

B: ²You should to take a taxi. That's always best.

A: ³That too expensive for us. Is there another way?

B: ⁴How about you going by underground?

A: I hate travelling by underground. ⁵I really don't like.

B: ⁶Why you don't you take the airport bus from your hotel?

A: ⁷That's good idea. Is that OK with you, Vincenzo?

C: ⁸Yes, that's fine with.

4D verbs of sensation + adjective or like

◀ page 45

That looks great.

That sounds terrible.

This tastes delicious.

That smells good.

This feels very hard.

After most verbs we use an adverb. I cook badly.

After the verb be we use an adjective. These eggs are bad.

We also use adjectives after the five verbs of sensation: look, sound, taste, smell and feel.

This tastes bad. NOT ~~This tastes badly.~~

Remember that verbs of sensation are state verbs. We don't usually use them in the present continuous or the past continuous.

That smells nice. NOT ~~That is smelling nice.~~

The soup tasted delicious. NOT ~~The soup was tasting delicious.~~

We can use look in the continuous when we talk about seeing, not sensations.

What are you looking at? (= seeing)

NOT ~~This hotel is looking good.~~ (= sensation)

We can use feel in the continuous when we talk about emotions, not sensations.

I'm feeling great. OR I feel great. (= emotion)

NOT ~~This bed is feeling soft.~~ (= sensation)

Questions with verbs of sensation

We can ask about sensations with How ... ? or What ... like? They mean the same thing.

We can answer with an adjective.

Q: How does it taste? A: It's delicious.

Q: What does it taste like? A: It's really nice.

We can use What/Who ... like? to ask about things that are similar.

We answer with a noun.

Q: What does it taste like? A: It tastes like dishwater.

Q: Who does she look like? A: She looks like her mother.

Remember that we can also use What ... like? with the verb be.

Q: What's the weather like? A: It's raining.

Q: What was the film like? A: It was great.

Look, sound, taste, smell and feel can also be nouns.

I love the sound of the sea. / The smell was terrible.

PRACTICE

- 1 Complete the sentences with the correct form of the verbs in the box. Use each verb twice.

I	me	my	mine
you	you	your	yours
he	him	his	his
she	her	her	hers
it	it	its	its
we	us	our	ours
they	them	their	theirs

Subject and object pronouns replace nouns.

Elena has got a problem. Elena She hasn't used this program before. Can you help Elena her?

We use object pronouns after prepositions.

Is this Jamie? I have a present for him. It's from me and William.

Possessive pronouns replace possessive adjectives + nouns.

A: Is this bag your bag yours?

B: No, it's their bag theirs.

We never follow a possessive pronoun with a noun.

What time is your flight? Ours is at 7.55. NOT ~~Ours flight is at 7.55.~~

That phone is mine. NOT ~~That phone is mine phone.~~

We use Whose + be or Whose + noun + verb to ask about possession.

A: Whose is that car?

A: Whose laptop is this?

B: It's his.

B: It's not mine. I think it's Ken's.

Notice that this is different from Who's (= Who is or Who has).

A: Who's that new student?

A: Who's got my book?

B: Her name's Lydia.

B: I have. Sorry.

this, that, these, those

We can use this, that, these and those as adjectives with nouns.

This shower is broken. That boy is my brother.

I haven't seen these photos before. Look at those butterflies.

We can also use this, that, these and those as pronouns, with no nouns.

This is broken. That's my brother.

I haven't seen these before. Look at those.

Pronouns this/that and there/then in writing and speaking

We often use personal pronouns, this/that and the adverbs there and then when we don't want to repeat a word, phrase or idea. These pronouns and adverbs refer back to a word, phrase or complete sentence that we have written or said earlier.

Eliza and I were walking home when Pat saw us.

I haven't got a pen. Can I borrow yours?

My manager cancelled the meeting yesterday. This was a problem for me.

5B quantifiers

◀ page 51

Quantifiers with countable and uncountable nouns

We use the quantifiers some, any and no before nouns.

We use some when we don't say the exact amount, but it is not large.

We use any to ask if something exists or to say something doesn't exist.

We use no to mean 'not any'.

some	✓			There's some good advice on the website.
any		✓	✓	Do you have any ideas?
no		✓		There's no electricity.

Remember that we use a singular verb with uncountable nouns.

There isn't any news. NOT ~~There aren't any news.~~

We use a positive verb with no.

I have no time to talk. NOT ~~I don't have no time to talk.~~

Notice

We can also use some for requests and offers.

Could you give me some information about trains to Madrid?

Would you like some tea?

Nouns with no quantifiers

When we are speaking in general, we don't use a quantifier or the before uncountable or countable nouns.

I'm not interested in fashion. NOT ~~I'm not interested in some fashion.~~

People are important to me. NOT ~~The people are important to me.~~

Compare this with when we are speaking about something specific.

The people in my family are the most important to me.

Quantifiers for different amounts

We use quantifiers to talk about the amount of something.

We use them with countable [C] nouns and uncountable [U] nouns.

	meaning	[C]	[U]	+	-	?
lots of / a lot of	a large amount	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	You've got a lot of T-shirts.

many		✓		✓	✓	✓	There aren't many buses.
too much	more than necessary (a problem)		✓	✓	✓	✓	There's too much work.
too many		✓		✓	✓	✓	I get too many emails.
enough	the right amount	✓	✓	✓	✓	✓	Have we got enough food?
a bit of / a little	a small amount		✓	✓		✓	I've got a bit of news.

Remember that we don't use too much + adjective.

I was too bored. NOT ~~I was too much bored.~~

Countable and uncountable meanings

Some nouns can be countable or uncountable. These include: coffee(s), tea(s), cake(s), paper(s) and time(s).

There's some coffee in the cupboard. We had three coffees.

Is there any paper for the printer? I read it in the paper. (= newspaper)

I don't have much time. I've been to Argentina many times.

3 Complete the text with the words in the box.

a any enough little lot many much no

We only took a(n) ¹ luggage with us, so we didn't have to go to the check-in desk. Although it took us a(n) ² of time to go through security, we were early so we had ³ time to go to one of the cafés and have breakfast. We got on the plane at seven. It was a long flight. Susie did ⁴ bit of work on her laptop, but I didn't have ⁵ work, so I watched a film. There weren't ⁶ people on the plane, only about thirty. I had a second breakfast, then Susie wasn't hungry, so I ate hers, too. That was too ⁷ food for one person and I felt very sleepy. There were ⁸ passengers in the seats next to mine, so I lay down and slept for about five hours. We landed at three o'clock.

5D verbs with two objects

◀ page 55

Direct and indirect objects

We use many verbs with a single direct object:

My brother is buying an apartment.
subject verb direct object

The direct object answers the question What is he buying?
(The answer is 'an apartment'.)

We use some verbs with a direct object and an indirect object:

My brother lent me his apartment.
subject verb indirect object direct object

The indirect object answers the question Who did he lend it to? (The answer is 'me'.)

Verbs with two objects

We use two different patterns with this type of verb.

1 She gave me a book.
verb + indirect object + direct object

2 She gave a book to me.
verb + direct object + to + indirect object

Verbs with two objects include:

verb	pattern 1	pattern 2
give	Give your sister that toy.	Give that toy to your sister.
lend	We lent Jamie our car.	We lent our car to Jamie.
offer	They offered us a free ticket.	They offered a free ticket to us.
pass	Could you pass me the salt?	Could you pass the salt to me?
send	I'll send Liz a card.	I'll send a card to Liz.
show	Charlie showed me his picture.	Charlie showed his picture to me.
teach	Sara taught them Spanish.	Sara taught Spanish to them.
write	Shall I write him a letter?	Shall I write a letter to him?

Some verbs take verb + direct object + for + indirect object:

verb	pattern 1	pattern 2
buy	Let's buy mum a present.	Let's buy a present for mum.
get	I'm going to get her some flowers.	I'm going to get some flowers for her.
leave	I left you a note.	I left a note for you.
make	He made me a dress.	He made a dress for me.

We often choose pattern 1, especially when the object is short.
I sent him an email.

We usually choose pattern 2 with a longer indirect object.
I sent an email to everyone in the company.

We almost always use pattern 1 with the verbs ask and tell.
I asked her a question. NOT ~~I asked a question to her.~~
I told him my name. NOT ~~I told my name to him.~~

PRACTICE

1 Put the words in the correct order to make sentences and questions.

- us / give / When / the / you / can / money ?
- photos / show / Let / our / holiday / you / me .
- please / you / a / plate, / Can / me / pass ?
- a / hour / Ken / sent / about / text / to / an / ago / I .
- I / for / my / favourite / ticket / got / brother / his / a / band .
- the / you / the / tell / park, / us / way / Can / to / please ?
- our / to / lent / some / last / house / We / friends / summer .
- of / anyone / you / piece / made / a / furniture / Have / ever ?
- to / Jenny / plant / going / buy / I'm / a / for .
- any / me / want / you / Do / to / questions / ask ?

2 Put the words in brackets in the correct place.

- Could you show ^{us} a picture of the house? (us)
- Did you send an email yesterday? (to Mark and Rachel)
- I was telling a story when you came in. (the children)
- Have you ever lent a friend? (money to)
- You could buy a jumper. (for dad)
- I'll leave the keys on the table. (for Justine)
- Let me give my business card. (you)
- Did they offer the job? (to Carlo)
- After our birthdays we had to write people. ('thank you' letters)
- Why don't we get an experience gift? (Jennifer)

3 Find and correct two mistakes in each conversation.

- A: Kelly, I have to give a talk my class tomorrow.
B: What's it about?
A: About this street.
B: That sounds interesting.
A: Can I show to you the video?
B: Yes, of course. I'd like to see it.
- A: Is there wifi in the apartment?
B: Yes. I'll leave the wifi password you in the kitchen.
A: Thanks.
B: Do you want to ask to me anything else?
A: No, that's everything. Thank you.
- A: Bianca would like the report today. Is it ready?
B: I can send the report her in about an hour.
A: Thank you. I'm going out for lunch. Do you want anything?
B: Can you get for me a sandwich?
A: What sort?
B: Egg, please.

6A adverbs of frequency and manner

◀ page 59

We use adverbs to tell us more about an action.

Adverbs of frequency

Adverbs of frequency are always, usually, normally, often, sometimes, not often, hardly ever, occasionally, never. They answer the question How often?

We use adverbs of frequency before most main verbs.

I occasionally write letters.

We don't put an adverb of frequency between a verb and its object.

We often visit my parents. NOT ~~We visit often my parents.~~

We use adverbs of frequency after the verb be.

The children are normally asleep before nine o'clock.

We can also use often, sometimes and occasionally at the beginning or end of a sentence or phrase.

Often we rented a house by the sea in the summer.

My mother taught Spanish to our neighbours sometimes.

Adverbs of manner

Adverbs of manner answer the question How?

	adjective	adverb
most adverbs, add -ly to the adjective	brilliant careful	brilliantly carefully adjectives ending -y , change -y to -ily	angry happy	angrily happily irregular adverbs	good fast hard early late	well fast hard early late

We usually use adverbs of manner after a verb.

They lived happily ever after.

We don't put an adverb of manner between a verb and its object.

I love our sons equally. NOT ~~I love equally our sons.~~

The comparative adverbs for good/bad are better/worse.

I did worse in the second exam than the first.

The superlative adverbs for good/bad are best/worst.

I work best in the mornings.

Remember that we use verbs of sensation (look, sound, taste, smell, feel) with adjectives, not adverbs.

That sounds good! NOT ~~That sounds well!~~

Well can be an adjective or an adverb.

I'm well, thanks. (adjective = fine/not ill)

I play tennis well. (adverb = I'm good at tennis.)

Modifiers

We use modifiers to say more about an adverb.

We can use the modifiers really, (not) very and quite with adverbs of manner and with often.

Ivan talks really fast. She goes there quite often.

We can also use really, very and only with occasionally.

My cousin and I call each other very occasionally.

PRACTICE

1 Complete the sentences. Choose the correct place (a or b) for the adverb of frequency or manner.

- They pronounce (a) some words (b) differently in the north of the country. (differently)
- When you work at a computer, you (a) should take a short break (b) (occasionally)
- I (a) shut all the windows (b) before I go to bed. (usually)
- Push (a) the button (b) and then wait for a minute. (hard)
- Irena (a) is (b) late, especially on Monday mornings. (often)
- You should (a) switch off (b) the light when you leave a room. (always)
- You played (a) that piece of music (b) (beautifully)
- I've ridden (a) a horse alone (b) (sometimes)

2 Complete the sentences. Use the adjective in brackets or change it to an adverb.

- I don't like being in a car with my brother because he drives really (dangerous)
- Could you speak? The baby's sleeping. (quiet)
- You should throw away these eggs. They smell really (bad)
- We arrived home, but the journey took ten hours. (safe)
- I can dance salsa, but not very (good)
- I'd like to go to Dr Muller's talk this evening. It looks (interesting)
- We have to walk because the bus leaves in ten minutes. (fast)
- 'I'm going to win this race,' Luzia said (confident)
- Well done! You played! (brilliant)
- Look at the baby. She's trying really to stand up. (hard)

3 Complete the text with the adverb form of the adjectives in the box. Use one word twice.

early easy hard late loud slow

One morning last week, I woke up ¹ because my neighbours were talking ² I didn't want to stay and listen to them, so I had breakfast and I ran out of the door to work. I forgot to take an umbrella and it started raining ³, so I got very wet. My train was at eight o'clock, but I arrived at the station ⁴, at a quarter to eight. So I caught my train ⁵ I was surprised because there weren't many people on the train. Because of the rain, the train went ⁶ and I got to the office ⁷, at half past nine. It was empty. I checked on my phone ... It was Sunday and I didn't have to work!

6B present perfect simple (2)

For the form of the present perfect simple, refer to page 108.

We use the present perfect simple to talk about a recent event before now.

It is always connected to now.

I've lost my phone. (= I can't find it now.)

We don't mention the specific time.

NOT I've lost my phone half an hour ago.

just

We use the present perfect simple with just for an action a very short time before now and very close to now.

Just goes before the past participle.

I've just spoken to Jon and he's going to call you.

recently

We use the present perfect simple with recently for an action a short time before now, but not very close to now.

Recently goes before the past participle or at the beginning or the end of a sentence or phrase.

I've recently moved home.

Recently I've moved home.

I've moved home recently.

already

We use the present perfect simple with already for an action before now and often before the listener expected.

Already goes before the past participle or at the end of a sentence or phrase.

Emilio's already paid for the meal.

Emilio's paid for the meal already.

yet

We use the present perfect simple with yet for an action that hasn't happened before now, but that we expect to happen in the future.

Yet goes at the end of a sentence or phrase.

I haven't bought a present for Sara yet. (= but I'm going to buy one)

We use yet with negatives and to ask questions. In questions, we expect the person has done the action.

Have you called Lucas yet? (= I expect that you called him before now)

In short answers we can use Not yet.

Not yet, but I'm going to call him this morning.

still

We use the present perfect simple with still for an action that hasn't happened before now, but that we expect to happen in the future.

We use still ... not to say things haven't changed and we feel a bit negative about this.

Still goes before have/has.

I still haven't read that book.

PRACTICE

1 Choose the correct words to complete the sentences.

- 1 Oh no! I 've forgotten / forgot my ticket.
- 2 We haven't seen / didn't see anyone in the park yesterday.
- 3 Can I go out? I 've done / did my homework.
- 4 Has Beata gone / Did Beata go to sleep or do I need to read her a story?
- 5 What time have you woken up / did you wake up?
- 6 The taxi's here. Have you shut / Did you shut all the windows?
- 7 We 've bought / bought a new car in March.
- 8 And Alan Jefcoate has won / won! That's amazing! Congratulations, Alan!

2 Put the words in the correct order to make sentences and questions.

- 1 plane / just / off / got / We've / the .
- 2 yet / you / contract / signed / the / Have ?
- 3 food, / ordered / I've / our / already / thanks .
- 4 question / yet / haven't / answered / my / You .
- 5 married / recently / Florence / got / has .
- 6 that / read / already / I've / book .
- 7 apartment / moved / our / still / We / to / new / haven't .
- 8 swim / the / yet / Have / children / to / learnt ?
- 9 jeans / new / bought / just / these / I've .
- 10 us / hasn't / plans / told / Jayne / yet / her .
- 11 recently / company / left / Hilary / has / the .
- 12 off / still / taken / plane / Our / hasn't .

3 Use the prompts to make sentences and questions and complete the conversations.

Conversation 1

- A: you / finish / the report / yet?
 B: I / still / not / finish / it.
 A: Do you want me to do it?
 B: Thanks, but / I / already / do / five pages.
 A: All today?
 B: No, I / do / those / yesterday. I can finish it this afternoon.
 A: OK. That sounds good.

Conversation 2

- A: What are you going to have?
 B: I / not / decide / yet. How about you?
 A: I / already / choose / my main course. The fish.
 I / have / it / last time.
 (later)
 A: Could we have the bill, please?
 B: It / be / OK. / I / already / pay.
 A: Really? Let me give you something. How much / be / it?
 B: That's a secret!

6C How to ... talk about health problems

◀ page 63

The doctor uses these phrases to greet the patient and ask questions.

What can I do for you?

How can I help you?

Could you tell me your symptoms?

When did these symptoms start?

We use these phrases to explain the problem.

I'm worried about my heart.

I've taken some painkillers, but it still hurts a lot.

I've taken some pills, but they haven't worked.

I've broken my wrist.

I've hurt my leg.

I've put ice on it.

My neck hurts.

My legs hurt.

My whole body aches.

I can't stop coughing.

I've got a sore throat.

I've got toothache.

I'm feeling/I feel really tired.

Notice

We can use have got or have for symptoms.

I've got a painful wrist. OR I have a painful wrist.

Have you got a temperature? OR Do you have a temperature?

We often use the present perfect simple in this situation because:

- the action or event is recent.
- it is connected to now.
- we don't mention the time.

I've cut my hand. NOT ~~I cut my hand.~~

The doctor uses these phrases to say what is wrong and to give advice.

If it still hasn't got better, you should get an X-ray.

It sounds like you've got flu.

It sounds like you've broken it.

You should stay at home.

You shouldn't play tennis.

And you must stay in bed.

You mustn't take more than four tablets every twenty-four hours.

If you don't feel better in a couple of days, give me a call.

Notice the difference:

You should(n't) + infinitive = It's a good/bad idea to do something.

You should drink lots of water. You shouldn't do too much exercise.

You must + infinitive = You have to do something. It's necessary.

You must stay at home.

You mustn't + infinitive = You can't do something. It's prohibited.

You mustn't do any sport for the next week.

PRACTICE

1 Complete the conversation with the correct form of the verbs in the box.

feel help hurt (x2) put rest take work

A: Hi, how can I ¹ you?

B: I've ² my hand. I fell over in the garden.

A: Let me look at it.

B: I've ³ ice on it.

A: Can you move your fingers? OK, nothing's broken.

B: Ow, my fingers really ⁴

A: Yes, well, you should ⁵ it. Don't use it.

B: I've ⁶ some painkillers, but they haven't ⁷

A: Just rest for a day or two. If you don't ⁸ better in a couple of days, give me a call.

2 Match the sentence halves.

| 7 Could you tell me | g I do for you? |
| 8 I feel | h coughing. |
| 9 You must | i sore throat. |
| 10 I have a | j earache. |

3 Correct the sentences. One sentence is correct.

- I'm always tired and I can't stop ery. crying
- I think I break my little finger because it's very painful.
- I'm worried my elbow, it really hurts.
- You mustn't go to work tomorrow.
- When have your symptoms started?
- You should to go to the hospital immediately.
- It sounds a bad cold, not flu.
- My all body aches.
- If it still has got better tomorrow, call me.
- My knee pains a lot.

6D be + adjective + to infinitive

◀ page 65

We use It + be + adjective + to infinitive with these adjectives:

bad	great	polite
common	hard	quick dangerous	important	right
difficult	interesting	safe
easy	kind	unusual
exciting	nice	useful
fine	normal	usual
good	OK	wrong

It's useful to discuss the problem together.

It isn't common to have barbecues in winter.

It was good to see you yesterday.

Was it easy to find the restaurant?

When we want to add a person, we can add for + me, him, Stef, etc.

It's difficult for me to change your flight.

It's fine for Stef to stay here tonight.

In some phrases with kind, good and nice, we use of + you, them, Jim, etc.

It's kind of you to help.

It's good of Jim to drive us to the airport.

It's nice of her to invite us to the party.

We can compare things with It + be + comparative adjective + to infinitive + than.

It's more interesting to be a driver than (to be) a passenger.

It's harder to work from home than (to work) in an office.

We use subject + be/feel, etc. + adjective + to infinitive when we want to talk about our feelings. Adjectives used in this structure include:

amazed	lucky	sorry
angry	pleased	surprised
happy	sad

I was amazed to see Jim at the party.

Are you pleased to be home after the holiday?

Notice

After sad, surprised or sorry, we often use these verbs: find out, hear, learn, see

We were sad to learn the news.

I was surprised to find out about the job on social media.

I'm really sorry to hear about your grandmother.

Are you surprised to see me?

Other adjectives + to infinitive include careful and ready.

Are you ready to leave?

The manager was careful to speak slowly.

We form negatives with adjective + not + to infinitive.

Be careful not to fall over.

I was sorry not to see you yesterday.

PRACTICE

1 Match the sentence halves.

- | | |

| 4 Maybe, but it's more important to | d of you to give me your advice. |
| 5 Do you think it's | e me to be a student again after a one-year break? |
| 6 It's difficult for me to say | f or to travel for a year? |
| 7 Thanks, it's nice | g better to work for a year than to travel? |

2 Put the words in the correct order to make sentences and questions.

- come / to / for / fine / It's / you .
- to / It's / again / see / you / great .
- perfect / not / to / It's / OK / be .

7A present continuous with future reference; other future forms

◀ page 69

Present continuous

We use the present continuous to talk about events that we have already arranged. The arrangements are often with other people.

I'm meeting my manager tomorrow at three o'clock.

(= I know about this, and my manager knows about the arrangement. It's in our diaries.)

Mariam's parents are coming for lunch tomorrow.

(= We know, and Mariam's parents know about the arrangement.)

We often use the present continuous for future arrangements with:

- a specific time phrase.
We're leaving for the airport at midday.
- a specific place.
We're stopping in Dubai.

be going to + infinitive

We normally use be going to for general plans and intentions about the future.

We're going to look for a new apartment.

Eduardo is going to try and speak to the engineer later this afternoon.

We can also use it for arrangements, but we usually choose the present continuous.

I'm going to meet Juan at the weekend. OR I'm meeting Juan at the weekend.

With the verb go, we don't usually say going to go:

I'm going to go to the park this afternoon.

'll/will + infinitive

We can use 'll/will + infinitive when we decide at the moment of speaking. In positive sentences we usually use the contraction 'll.

A: What are you having for dessert?

B: I can't decide ... OK, I'll have the ice cream.

We often use it when we make an offer.

Just a minute. I'll help you.

Notice

We can use shall + I/we + infinitive:

- to make an offer.
Shall I carry that for you?
- to ask for or make a suggestion.
What shall we do on Saturday?
Shall we have a rest?

Future time phrases

We can use these phrases to talk about arrangements, intentions and decisions in the future:

- today, this (afternoon), tomorrow (morning), next (week), soon
I'm seeing Ziya tomorrow evening.
- in a few (minutes), in two (weeks), in a (month's) time
We're having a video call in a few minutes. NOT ~~a few minutes later~~
- (right) now, straightaway, immediately (with 'll + infinitive)
Oh, here's Kai. I'll speak to him right now.

12 Oh, so there's no more fish? Then I have the steak.

7B indefinite pronouns: someone, nothing, anywhere, etc.

◀ page 71

We use indefinite pronouns to talk about people, things and places. They end with -one/-body, -thing or -where.

Someone/Somebody called about the flat yesterday.

There's nothing in the fridge.

Sofia goes everywhere by bike.

every-

We use everyone/everybody, everything and everywhere to talk about all people, things and places.

When these words are the subject, we use them with a third person singular verb.

Everyone/Everybody likes chocolate.

NOT ~~Everyone/Everybody like~~ chocolate.

Is everything all right?

I've looked everywhere for my glasses, but I can't find them.

some-

We use someone/somebody, something and somewhere to talk about a person, a thing or a place.

We don't say (or know) exactly who, what or where.

Someone/Somebody has eaten my sandwich.

There's something wrong with my phone.

Joshua's somewhere in Egypt at the moment.

no-

We use no one/nobody, nothing and nowhere to talk about no people, things and places.

We use these words with a positive verb.

No one/Nobody knows the answer.

NOT ~~No one/Nobody doesn't know~~ the answer.

I have nothing valuable with me.

There's nowhere to eat around here.

any-

We use anyone/anybody, anything and anywhere to ask questions about people, things and places.

Has anyone/anybody seen my keys?

Is there anything good on TV tonight?

Are you going anywhere nice this summer?

We also use these words with a negative verb.

I didn't know anyone at the party. (= no people)

We haven't been anywhere in the USA. (= no places)

We can also use anyone/anybody, anything and anywhere with a positive verb to mean all people, things and places. It's not important who, what or where.

You can ask me anything and I'll try to answer.

I can sleep anywhere, for example, in a hotel, on a bus or a train.

Notice

With offers and requests, we usually use something.

Would you like/Can I have something to drink?

We can use no one/nobody, nothing and nowhere in short answers.

A: Where have you been? B: Nowhere.

Indefinite pronouns + to infinitive

We often use indefinite pronouns with the to infinitive.

I'll find someone/somebody to help you.

I've got nothing to read on the train.

Is there anywhere to get a coffee near here?

PRACTICE

1 Choose the correct word to complete the sentences.

7D adverbial and prepositional phrases

◀ page 74

Phrases to describe position

We use the adverbial phrases at the front, in the middle, at the back, on the left/right and on the left-hand/right-hand side to answer the question Where?

Who's the man on the left-hand side of the photo?

We also use:

in the distance = far away

What is that building in the distance? I can't see it well.

in the background = behind the main people or things in a photo or picture

at the front

in the middle

at the back on the left/left-hand side in the distance

in the background

Other prepositional phrases

We often use prepositions + adjectives + nouns.

He's standing in front of a beautiful old building.

There's a woman in a modern sports car.

I love the photo of the child with long dark hair.

Phrases + with and without

We use with to mean:

- two or more people together in the same place.
She's walking in the park with her children.
- having, possessing or carrying something.
Can you see that man with the black bag?
- 'including'.
Would you like a room with a view?

We use without to mean:

- not having something.
You can travel there without a visa.
- 'not including'.
It's an apartment without a balcony.

PRACTICE

- Choose the correct words to complete the sentences.
 - It's very dark here. Can you see a light in the distance / background?
 - Who is the woman in middle / the middle?
 - My brother is the one with a bright blue / bright and blue T-shirt.

- Complete the email with the words in the box. You do not need one of the words.

a in of on right the with without

Hi Sam,

I'm in my hotel and I'm so glad I got a room
 1 a balcony – the view of the town is perfect. The market square is 2 the middle, and there are beautiful old buildings all around the square. People are sitting at restaurant tables in front 3 some of the pretty buildings. There's a museum 4 the left-hand side of the square. I can see a bridge in 5 distance and a tower on the 6 of the bridge. It's all so beautiful, but I feel sad that I'm here 7 you.

8A will for predictions

◀ page 79

We often use will + infinitive when we talk about predictions (the things that we know, think or guess about the future).

Food prices will increase next year.

They won't win the championship.

Positive and negative

	subject	auxiliary verb (will)	infinitive
+	I/You/He/She/It/We/They	'll will	be fine.
-	I/You/He/She/It/We/They	won't will not	pass the test.

We often use I'm sure, I think, I don't think with will + infinitive.

I'm sure Greta will be here soon.

I don't think she'll be late. NOT ~~I think she won't be late.~~

We can also use probably when we think something will happen, but we're not 100 percent sure.

We use probably after will or before won't.

Wiener will probably finish first.

He probably won't be happy with his time.

We can use maybe and perhaps when we're not sure.

We use maybe and perhaps at the beginning of a sentence or phrase.

Perhaps prices will stay the same.

Maybe it won't rain tomorrow.

Questions

	wh- word	auxiliary	subject	infinitive
wh- questions	What When How long How much	will	he it she the trip	do? happen? take? cost?
yes/no questions		Will	they she	win? like it?

We can use short answers to yes/no questions with will.

Yes, she will.

No, they won't.

Notice

We can also use will + infinitive in a subject question:

Who will become the next president?

Who is the subject of the verb.

Compare this with the object question:

Who will they choose?

They is the subject of the verb. Who is the object.

We can also use 'll/will + infinitive for decisions we make at the moment of speaking.

I can't decide. OK, I'll have the chicken, please.

We don't usually use 'll/will + infinitive for arrangements or for general intentions.

I'm seeing Zack tomorrow and we're going to talk about the party.

NOT ~~I'll see Zack tomorrow and we'll talk about the party.~~

PRACTICE

1 Choose the correct words to complete the sentences.

- The price of electric cars will to go down / will go down.
- I think she will / she will want to come to the party.
- I don't think Günter will / won't enjoy his new job.
- Perhaps it'll / It perhaps will rain next week.
- The company won't probably / probably won't offer me the job.
- My rent will probably / probably will go up next month.
- How long will take / will she take to go to sleep?
- What will happen / will it happen next do you think?

2 Put the words in the correct order to make sentences and questions.

- forget / will / I'm / I / something / sure .
- there / lot / be / of / Will / a / people / there ?
- to / find / a / park / place / probably / You / won't .
- with / an / half / you / be / hour / We'll / in .

B: I won't think he will.

8B first conditional

◀ page 80

We use the first conditional to talk about a possible situation in the future and its result.

If we leave after five, we'll miss the train.

We use if + present simple to talk about the situation.

If it rains tomorrow, ...

We use will + infinitive to talk about the result.

... we'll stay at home.

We use a comma after the if clause (part of the sentence).

If it rains tomorrow, we'll stay at home.

if clause result clause

We can also start the sentence with the result clause. We don't use a comma for this.

We'll stay at home if it rains tomorrow.

result clause if clause

We can use a negative in the if clause and/or the result clause.

If you don't work harder, you won't pass the exam.

We make questions with will + subject + infinitive.

What will you do if you miss the last bus?

We often use a contraction when we speak.

What'll you do if you get the job?

We often use the first conditional for:

- decisions.

If it's a boy, we'll call him Jordan.

I won't drive if it snows tomorrow.

- offers.

If I have time, I'll drive you to the airport.

We'll get the tickets if you want.

- advice.

If you practise a lot, you'll pass your driving test.

You'll feel better if you have something to eat.

PRACTICE

1 Match the sentence halves.

- I'll go to the party
 - If you go straight on here,
 - If you call the surgery tomorrow,
 - I'll be very surprised
 - You'll be late
 - If you take this bag,
 - If I find your glasses,
 - You'll feel better
- a if you take some of these pills.
b I'll carry the other one.
c I'll send them to you.
d if you come with me.
e you'll see the cinema on your left.
f if you don't leave now.
g if I win.
h I'll give you the test results.

2 Complete the first conditional sentences with the correct form of the verbs in brackets. Use contractions where possible.

- If we _____ enough time, we _____ on a walking tour around the city. (have / go)
- If there _____ an emergency, I _____ straightaway. (be / come)

8C How to ... check information

◀ page 83

Question tags

We use question tags when we guess or we think that we already know the correct information. We want to check that it is true.

That's an electric car, isn't it?

You come from Italy, don't you?

We use a positive verb in the first part of the question.

We use a negative question tag in the second part.

Question tags with be

To make a question tag, we use negative forms of be: isn't / aren't, wasn't / weren't, won't + pronoun.

	positive verb	question tag
be	Jasmine was here a minute ago, You're from Italy, Karim will be here soon,	wasn't she? aren't you? won't he?

Question tags with other verbs

To make a question tag, we use the correct auxiliary verb in the negative + pronoun.

	positive verb	question tag
present simple	Your husband eats meat, You know Andy,	doesn't he? don't you?
present continuous	She's living in Brazil, They're working at home,	isn't she? aren't they?
past simple	Emma studied at Harvard,	didn't she?
past continuous	It was raining, They were having a party,	wasn't it? weren't they?
present perfect	Salvador has been to China, You've just arrived here,	hasn't he? haven't you?
will future	You'll talk to John tomorrow,	won't you?
can for ability	You can play the piano, She can come tomorrow,	can't you? can't she?

We can use question tags to start conversations, for example:

- meeting someone on the street.
A: It's a lovely day, isn't it?
B: Yes, it's beautiful.
- talking to a classmate after a test.
A: That was difficult, wasn't it?
B: Yes, it really was.
- trying to talk to a person who is angry.
A: You're angry about it, aren't you?
B: Yes, I am.

When we use a question tag, we expect the other person to agree with us.

A: He's a brilliant actor, isn't he?

B: Yes, I think he's great.

If we disagree after this type of question tag, we can use actually to make our answer softer.

A: You eat cheese, don't you?

B: Actually, I don't./I don't, actually.

PRACTICE

1 Match the sentence halves.

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------|
| 1 The children were really good, | a wasn't he? |
| 2 He works in the city centre, | b isn't it? |
| 3 We're leaving from Dubai, | c can't you? |

| 8 He was talking to Jane, | h didn't we? |
| 9 There's a lot of traffic today, | i weren't they? |
| 10 They come from Scotland, | j doesn't it? |
| 11 This dress looks amazing, | k aren't we? |
| 12 You can taste the lemon in it, | l can't he? |

2 Complete the questions with a question tag.

- Your name's Sylvia,?
- You're going to Scotland soon,?
- We met last year,?
- You'll call me later,?
- That was a big storm last night,?
- You've forgotten your phone again,?
- We've been here before,?
- Ms Davis lives near here,?
- There's some milk in the fridge,?
- You enjoy playing badminton,?
- It was a wonderful concert,?
- Jeff's just finished college,?

3 Use the prompts to make sentences and questions and complete the conversations. Use one question tag in each conversation.

- A: Liana / wants / be / vet, / she?
B: That / be / right.
- A: You / studied / economics / university, / you?
B: Actually, / I / study / law.
- A: That / be / our luggage / over there, / it?
B: Yes / be.
- A: Tomorrow / we'll / have time / go shopping / airport, / we?
B: Yes / will.
- A: You / meet / Chris / before, / you?
B: Yes / we / meet / last year.
- A: These / be / my sandwiches, / they?
B: Actually, / they / be / mine.
- A: You / will / remember / shut / all / windows, / you?
B: Yes, / will. / not / worry!
- A: You / print / our boarding passes, / you?
B: Yes, / have, / but they / be / also here on my phone.

8D word building: nouns to adjectives

◀ page 85

We often make adjectives from nouns:

sport – sporty

care – careful

Adjectives ending in -y

noun	adjective	spelling
luck	lucky	most nouns, add -y
noise	noisy	nouns ending -e, change -e to -y
sun	sunny	nouns ending CVC*, double the final consonant and add -y
snow	snowy	nouns ending -w or -x, do not double the final consonant
