What's in a first name? In many countries, it's the last.

Dear Allen,

I have a problem. My name is Chinese. It's Zhang Yin. Zhang is my last name and Yin is my first name. In China, family names are first and given names are last. I'm a salesman and I often travel to English-speaking countries for business. When I fill out a personal information form in English, I write Yin in the box for first name and Zhang in the box for last name. Then people call me Yin Zhang. When I introduce myself as Zhang Yin, they call me Mr. Yin. So sometimes I say that my name is Yin Zhang. But I don't feel comfortable with that because that isn't my real name. What should I do?

Zhang Yin
Shanghai, China

Dear Yin,

In English-speaking countries, when you ask, "What's your name?" you always get the person's given name first and the family name last. In China, and in many Asian countries, including Japan and Korea, the family name is first and given name is second. To avoid confusion, try introducing yourself like this: "Hi. I'm Zhang Yin. My first name is Yin and my family name is Zhang. Please call me Mr. Zhang."

Blending Families: Advice for Stepparents

Blended families, or stepfamilies, are now very common. In the U.S., at least one-third of all children will be part of a blended family before they reach the age of eighteen. At first, the changes for children in blended families may be difficult. But most blended families are able to work out their problems and live together happily.

What is a blended family?

In a blended family, one or both parents have children from earlier relationships. The parents may be divorced or widowed. When they decide to get married again, they bring children from their first marriage to live with their new husband or wife and, in some cases, his or her children.

What can new stepparents do?

While the new marriage is exciting for the parents, the children may be worried. Will they have a good relationship with their new stepfather or stepmother? What will their new stepbrothers and stepsisters be like?

A few important things for new stepparents to remember are:

- Be realistic: Everything won't be perfect in the beginning.
- Be patient: Good relationships take time.
- Don't expect too much: Give your stepchildren your time, energy, and love, but don't expect anything in return for now.

The good news is that, with good communication and a lot of support, kids usually adjust to their new family members. The bad news? Creating a healthy blended family takes hard work and a lot of time.

Read the article about a famous electronic product.

Presenting the Sony, er . . . Stowaway?

Mr. Akio Morita and Mr. Masaru Ibuka started the Sony Corporation in Tokyo in 1946. At first, Sony was a small electrical repair company. In 1953, they started to sell the first transistor radios. In 1979, Sony introduced one of their most famous products, the "Walkman" portable cassette player.

Sony engineers invented the Walkman after they noticed young Japanese people listening to music all day, even carrying large stereos to the park. They believed that people wanted a music player that was small enough to wear in a shirt pocket. Sony also wanted the cassette player to be easy to use, so that people could listen to music while doing other things like exercising, riding the train, or doing housework.

Sony chose the name "Walkman" for their new product. At first, the Walkman didn't sell well. Electronic stores didn't think people would buy it. Some thought that the Walkman would make people unfriendly and stop talking to other people. However, as more people heard about the Walkman, it became a big hit. Japanese music fans loved it. When Sony was ready to sell the Walkman in other countries, they worried that people would think that the name was bad English. They made plans to call it the "Soundabout" in the United States and the "Stowaway" in the United Kingdom. But Mr. Morita wanted his gadget to have the same name in every country, and now "Walkman" is its name all over the world. You can even find "walkman" in the dictionary! Since 1979, there have been 300 different Walkman models and over 150 million have been sold around the world. Today's Walkman is a video MP3 player with built-in wireless Internet. The Sony Walkman is the best selling consumer electronic product ever made.

LESSONS 3 and 4
16 Read the letters to a health magazine advice column.

Dear In-Shape,

I have two health questions for you. I'm an athlete. I play baseball for my university team and I go running every day. I exercise all the time. I think I'm in terrific shape, but I'm worried that I exercise too much. That's my first question—how much exercise is too much?

My second question is about my diet. I try to eat healthy. I hardly ever eat pizza, fast food, or other snacks. I never drink soft drinks. But I have one really bad habit: I have a sweet tooth! I eat too much chocolate, candy, cake, and ice cream. How can I cut down on sweets?

—Ron Miller

Dear In-Shape,

I need some exercise advice! I don't feel very healthy. I get tired just walking from my house to my car! My doctor said that I have to exercise more. I'm sure that she's right. I should get out of the house more often. My husband goes running every day, but I never go running with him. I'm a couch potato. My big activity is watching movies—I watch a movie just about every night. Unfortunately, you don't burn many calories watching TV!

By the way, the problem is not my diet. I generally try to eat foods that are good for me, like fish, vegetables, and fruit. I avoid snacks and I almost never eat sweets!

Summer Air Travel Tips

Traveling by air in the summer can be frustrating. There are delayed flights, late arrivals, and missed connections. Flights are full and crowded since airlines overbook them. If you can, avoid air travel during this peak season and plan your vacation for a less busy time of the year. If you have to fly during the summer, here are some ideas to make it a little easier:

- Don't fly after 2:00 P.M. There are often summer thunderstorms in the late afternoon. They could cause flights to be delayed or canceled.
- Fly early in the morning. Later flights are often affected by delayed flights earlier in the day.
- Fly on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, or Saturday. Sunday, Monday, and Friday are the busiest air-travel days.
- Check airport security do's and don'ts online before you arrive at the airport.
- Take food and water on board in case of a long delay before takeoff. Remember to purchase food and beverages after you go through airport security.

Bargaining Customs around the World

Bargaining customs are very different around the world. Few would go shopping in another country without knowing the exchange rate. However, many travelers don't learn anything about the local shopping customs of the place they are visiting before spending money. Understanding when it's OK to bargain can save you a lot of money and make your shopping experience much more enjoyable.

In some countries, bargaining is an important part of the shopping culture. In others, bargaining is not done at all. Here's a bargaining guide for some countries around the world:

Morocco: Bargaining is always expected in the shopping markets. Here bargaining is more than just getting the best price. If you go into a shop and agree to the first price a seller offers, the seller may not be happy. For Moroccans, bargaining is a form of entertainment; it's a game of skill, a little bit of acting, and it's a chance to chat about the weather, business, and family. So be sure to have fun and try to get a better price!

Switzerland: Bargaining is not the custom here. Shop clerks can almost never give you a lower price. However, some hotels may give you a lower rate during the less popular times of year. It can't hurt to ask.

Tahiti: Bargaining is not appropriate in the South Pacific. In fact, it is considered disrespectful to ask for a better price. In the food markets, sellers will even take their fruits and vegetables back home with them, rather than give a discount!

What continent is home to the world's biggest shopping malls?

It's not North America. Only one of the world's ten largest malls is in the U.S. Built in 1969, the Eastwood Mall Complex in Youngstown, Ohio, is the ninth largest mall. Similarly, one Canadian mall made the top-ten list. The West Edmonton Mall in Alberta, built in 1981, is number six.

Europe's biggest mall—fifth on the list of the world's largest—is newer. It was built in 2005. It's located in Istanbul, Turkey.

The continent with the biggest, newest, and most exciting malls is Asia. Seven of the world's ten largest shopping malls are in Asia. The two largest are in China and opened in 2005 and 2004. The New South China Mall in Dongguan has 1500 stores and 7.1 million square feet of retail space. The Golden Resources Mall in Beijing—also called "The Great Mall of China"—has 50,000 visitors every day. Enormous malls in the Philippines, Dubai, and Malaysia have roller coasters, ice-skating rinks, water parks, aquariums, and bowling alleys.
